G.O.P. CANDIDATES
SWEEP LEE COUNTY

INCOMPLETE RETURNS GIVE EVERY REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE BIG LEAD.

HUGHES MAJORITY WAS 3694

Lowden's Majority In Twenty-Three Precincts Was 1945.

Lee county returned its vote to the republican column yesterday with a mighty sweep and gave Hughes and Lowden and the entire republican ticket a handsome majority. Because of the exceptionally heavy vote and the large number of women's ballots the returns were still incomplete at 2 o'clock, at which time the figures showed that 27 of the 30 precincts in the county had given Hughes 7445 and Wilson 3481. 4474 men and 2971 women voted for Hughes and 2006 men and 1475 women cast their ballots for the president.

Twenty-three precincts in Lee county gave Lowden, republican candidate for governor, 3645 and Dunne 1700. For Lieutenant Governor Oglesby led his democratic rival, Huttman, 2615 to 1359 in 16 of the 30 precincts. The same number of precincts gave Emmerson 2573 to Stevenson's 1299 for Secretary of State and Russell 2601 to Brady's 1254 for Auditor.

For Other Offices.

For Treasurer—
Small, Rep.2586
Charles, Dem.1268

For Attorney General—
Brundage, rep.2418
Lucy, dem.1261

For Congressman-at-Large—
McCormick, rep.2761
Mason, rep.2696
Williams, dem.1369
Kostner, dem.1363

McKenzie's Vote.

Fifteen precincts, half of those in the county, gave Congressman McKenzie 2439 against Duffley's 1180. Thirteen precincts in the county gave for Board of Equalization:

	Men	Women
Kent	2552	1358
Godfrey	1409	1033

Representative Fight.

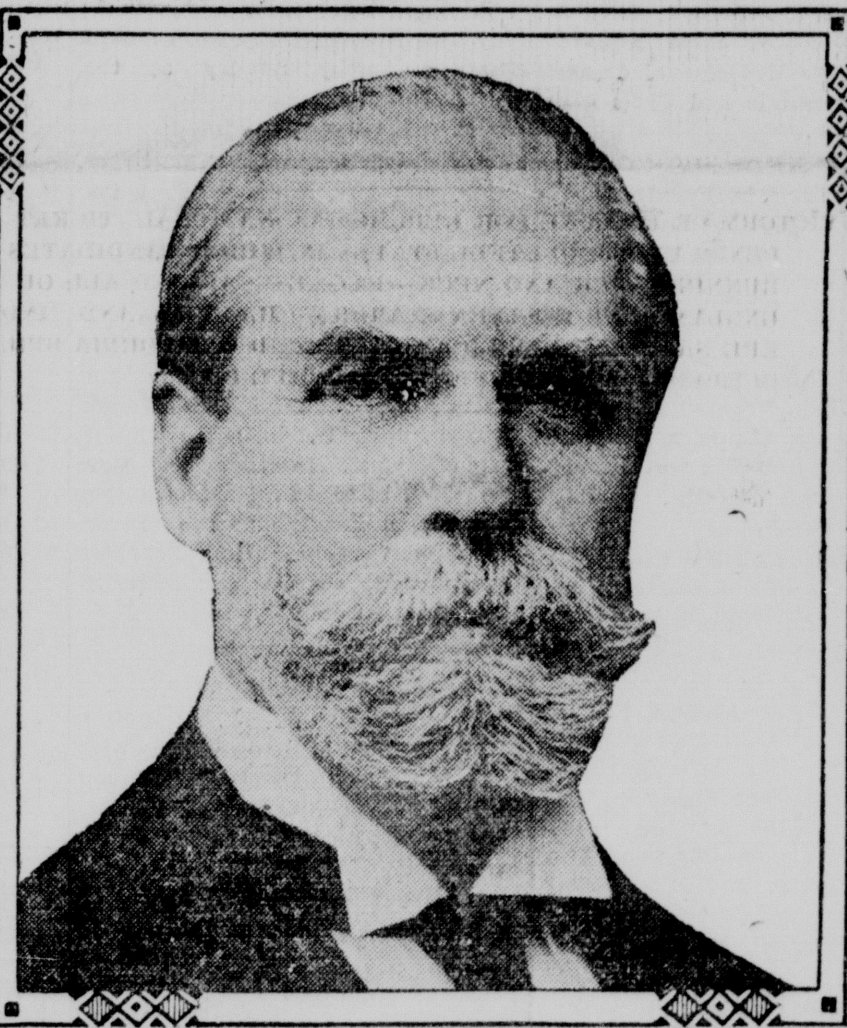

Carter, the DeKalb county progressive candidate for representative in the General Assembly, failed to develop any strength in this county, his vote being negligible. Brewer, Carpenter and Devine each polled a big vote, the returns from 20 precincts giving them:

Brewer	4567
Carpenter	5126
Devine	5474

Complimentary Votes.

G. O. P. CANDIDATE IS IN LEAD IN CLOSEST FIGHT

VICTORY OR FAILURE FOR REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET DEPENDS UPON DOUBTFUL STATES IN WHICH CANDIDATES ARE RUNNING NECK AND NECK—HUGHES CARRIED ALL OF NEW ENGLAND AND EASTERN STATES—ILLINOIS AND INDIANA ARE SAFELY REPUBLICAN—OHIO AND CALIFORNIA STILL UNCERTAIN—WILSON REFUSES TO GIVE UP.

LATE RETURNS SHOW HUGHES HAS 216 VOTES

(Associated Press) The victory is emphasized by the New York, Nov. 8.—At 4:40 this morning the returns while still incomplete made Wilson reasonably certain of 232 votes in the electoral college and seemed to give Hughes 218. There were 81 votes still in doubt, 266 being required for an election.

These states were counted for Wilson: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Virginia. Total, 232.

For Hughes these states were claimed: Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming. Total, 218.

At 5:15 a. m. returns from Cheyenne took Wyoming from Hughes' congressional districts to be heard list and placed its three electoral votes in Wilson's column.

Republican leaders claim Connecticut, Illinois, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming. Total, 218.

Democratic leaders claim Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, North Dakota, Mississippi, Nebraska, Nevada, West Virginia and possibly one each in Ohio and Montana.

Claims on the following states were conflicting: Arizona, California, California by 1400 votes at 2 a. m. to Delaware, Idaho, Indiana, Kansas, day. For three hours Wilson stood in Minnesota, Missouri, Montana. New the lead by 1000 to 2000 votes. At Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, this hour 1784 of 5917 precincts in Washington, West Virginia, Wyoming the state had been reported. San Francisco and Los Angeles had reported only a few precincts.

Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National committee, at 5:20 this morning gave out the following statement: President Wilson was re-elected yesterday by the people of the United States. He will have certainly 304 votes in the electoral college and this may increase by delayed returns from doubtful states.

HUGHES LEADS IN INDIANA Indianapolis—Returns from 1533 out of 3142 precincts in Indiana give Wilson 210,475, Hughes 220,186.

Portland, Ore.—Wilson took the complete figures from 30 counties gave him 15,682 and Hughes 15,379.

DEMOCRATIC CLAIMS
New York—A statement issued by the Democratic National committee at 1:30 o'clock this morning claiming that with the loss of the following states, which it was not believed that Hughes had carried, President Wilson was still re-elected by a majority of 2 electoral votes in the electoral college: California, Indiana, North Dakota, South Dakota, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

REPUBLICAN TICKET IN IOWA

State Gave Hughes 50,000 and State Ticket 100,000.

Des Moines—Iowa went republican today by probably more than 50,000 for Hughes and more than 100,000 for W. L. Harding, republican candidate for governor. The rest of the republican state ticket and a majority of congressmen were also elected.

WILSON LEADING.
St. Paul—When 183 out of 302 precincts in Minnesota had been heard from shortly after midnight Wilson was leading Hughes, 22,223 to 18,243.

A NEAT BLOUSE DRESS FOR MOTHER'S GIRL

1784—Serge, rep, drill, linen or poplin could be used for the skirt, and crepe, batiste or lawn for the blouse. The entire dress may be of one material. The skirt is buttoned to the blouse at the belt. The sleeve may be in wrist or elbow length. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 3 1/4 yards of 44 inch material for a 10 year size.

Plaid gingham, in brown and blue tones, would be nice for this skirt, with white linen for the blouse, and collar and cuffs of the plaid. Khaki cloth is also good for the skirt, and tub silk or voile for the blouse.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

CONVERSATION METERED

Telephone Device Automatically Measures Length of Talk

By making use of an ordinary watch movement a telephone has been invented which is intended to perform much the same function as does an electric light or gas meter. The device is fitted inside of a receiving instrument. When a button, fixed in the side of the latter, is pressed, the meter is wound and started. Until this is done communication over a line is prevented. At the expiration of a specified period the meter automatically cuts off a conversation, making it necessary to again push the button, and thus reset the timer, if further use of the line is desired.—Popular Mechanics.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM MARYLAND

Estimate President's Majority in the State At 6,000.

Baltimore—With more than two-thirds of Baltimore city vote counted and scattered returns from the counties, the democrats at midnight claimed the state for President Wilson by 6,000 plurality. Democrats elected four congressmen and the republicans two, a republican gain of one. Prohibition was defeated in Baltimore by estimated majority of 49,000.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Turpentine will soften hardened shoe polish.

Rosebushes will thrive if soapsuds and dishwater are put on them.

Most any objectionable weed will die if it is cut off close to the ground and a little gasoline poured on the roots.

If a shoe pinches in any particular part, a cloth wrung out in hot water and laid over the place while the shoe is on the foot will expand the leather and give relief.

Stalks and stems may be very quickly removed from currants by well flouring the hands and rubbing the currants as hard as possible between them. This takes much less time than picking them separately and is quite as effective.

Woman's Life in Persia
Should the women of Persia ever get a vote, they will doubtless see to it that the lot of their sex is considerably improved, for at the present time they are regarded as nonentities, says an exchange.

A husband in Persia never speaks of his wife to his acquaintances and, if obliged to mention her, it is by some other term than wife, as mother of my son or my house. She must not exist for any one but her husband and from all others she must be hidden—nonexisting.

For this reason when the harems of governors or very high personages pass thru the streets of Persia, the men whom they meet either turn their backs or slip down a street or into some convenient doorway.

On passing a European, if sure that none of her coreligionists sees her, a woman, particularly if she be young and good looking, will often raise her veil, from under which a pair of dark eyes follow the stranger with a curious gaze.

Maidens wishing to get married visit the tomb of some sacred woman. There are many such tombs and most of the are considered as the patrons of virgins. Marriages are contracted very early. Sometimes, owing to family reasons, one hears of a youth of 15 or 16 married to a girl much older. The marriageable age for a girl is fixed at nine.

Horton Godfrey arrived home Saturday evening in order to be here to vote.

G.O.P. CANDIDATES SWEEP LEE COUNTY

Attorney Edwards were re-elected with a pleasing complimentary vote, 16 precincts giving Rosecrans 2660 to Helmer's 1098, and Edwards 2635 to Hanneken's 1147.

Whetston Election.
Sixteen precincts gave Whetston 2493 against Loesch's 1150 for co. oner.

Thirteen precincts gave Leake 2932 to Nesbit's 2022 for county surveyor.

MAINE FOR HUGHES.

Portland—Six Hughes and Fairbanks electors were chosen in Maine, with an estimated plurality of 6,000 out of a total vote of about 132,000 for the two leading parties, according to returns at midnight with less than 100 small places missing. Hughes had 65,999 and Wilson 60,102.

MCCORMICK'S CLAIMS

New York—At an early hour this morning Democratic Chairman McCormick was claiming at least 268 votes for Wilson in the electoral college and Republican Chairman Willcox claimed 301. Each was claiming the doubtful states, Kentucky, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska and Washington, which on the face of early returns were leaning toward Wilson. Maryland seemed almost certainly democratic. Missouri, Indiana, West Virginia, Arizona and Delaware were leaning toward Hughes. McCormick, however, claimed the president could have a majority of two votes in the electoral college without carrying California, Indiana, North and South Dakota, West Virginia or Wisconsin, from which returns were far from complete but showing a republican trend. The early morning returns came in slowly. Managers of both parties were anxiously watching Ohio and both were claiming victory. As the hours dragged on it became evident that it would be a close election and there appeared possibilities that in some places it might be necessary to resort to official counts to determine the result.

McCormick Talks.
At 3 o'clock this morning Vance McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee, issued the following statement:

"We've got them. The Wilson vote is rolling up every minute. Wilson will have close to 300 votes in the electoral college."

Later he grew more optimistic in regard to Wilson's chances, saying he would receive 291 electoral votes as against 249 for Hughes. He said democratic committees for mail parts of the country had furnished the figures on which the deductions were based.

G. O. P. Unchanged.

At republican headquarters Chairman Willcox said he did not desire to change his estimates.

PENNSYLVANIA CORNERS

Pa. Corners, Nov. 6—Dr. J. R. Haindine of Clinton, Iowa, was here Sunday on a social and professional visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brink of Natchua spent Sunday with friends at Penn. Corners.

Rev. David W. Madden of Mt. Morris will deliver a lecture at the Church Friday evening, Nov. 10th, at 7:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid. "Seeing America First" is the title of the lecture and it will be illustrated with stereopticon views.

THE SOLID SOUTH.

Atlanta—President Wilson was given the usual substantial democratic majorities in yesterday's election in the southern states.

WISCONSIN TO HUGHES

Milwaukee—At midnight returns with only two or three counties complete indicate that Hughes carried Wisconsin by at least 20,000.

Repair Shops Portable

The enormous use of aeroplanes during the European war has resulted in an extensive use of special motor aeroplane repair shops.

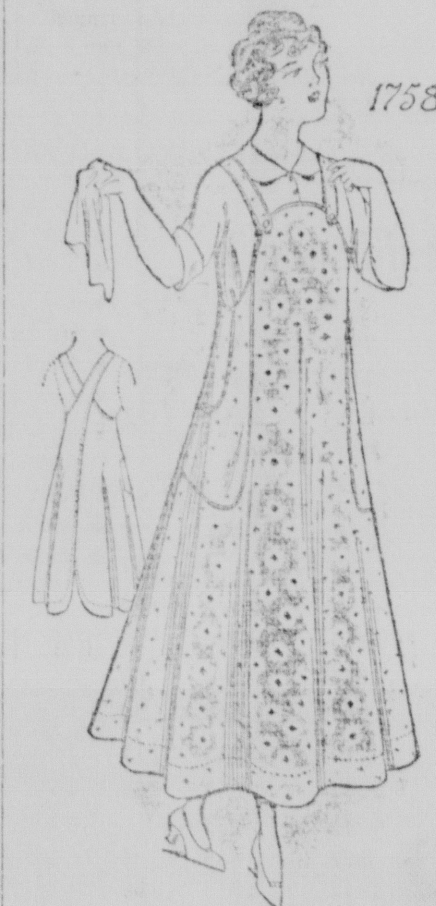

These portable aeroplane factories were first used by the French, and are marvels of ingenuity, for, in addition to carrying propellers and wings for aeroplanes, they are fitted with lathes, drill machines, forges and a fact, most of the apparatus necessary to completely rebuild an aeroplane, except, of course, the engine.

Fitted with powerful engines these aeroplane motors can get up a tremendous speed despite their weight, and are quickly on the scene of any aeroplane smash.

In the roofs of many of these motors, by the way, are windows or openings through which an observer can watch the flight of the aeroplanes.

The man who thinks he is the whole thing doesn't waste time trying to conceal it from others.

Nearly every pretty girl is a piano thumper, and nearly every homely girl is a good cook.

A COMFORTABLE SERVICEABLE MODEL

1758—Ladies' Apron

The big ample pocket is not the only good feature of this model. It is easy to develop, easy to adjust and affords ample protection for the dress beneath it. It is a good warm weather apron because it is sleeveless. Percelle, gown, gingham, saten, alpaca and drill are nice for this style. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: Small medium and large. It requires 6 1/4 yards of 36 inch material for a medium size.

SEEMS CERTAIN.

New York—The state of New York has been carried for Hughes by a plurality of more than 100,000. The indications are that he also has carried Illinois and Indiana by a like plurality. The returns from Ohio are insufficient to determine the result in that state.

New England states and New Jersey, as well as Wisconsin and Michigan have been removed from the list of doubtful states. Unless there is a landslide on the Pacific slope the election of Hughes seems certain.

GENERAL VON STEIN

New Prussian War Minister.

American Press Association.

Lieutenant General von Stein has been appointed war minister of Prussia by Kaiser Wilhelm. General von Stein, who at the beginning of the war was quartermaster general, achieved great popularity through the laconic war bulletins bearing his signature proclaiming the rapid succession of victories to the German arms in the early stages of the war. Latterly he was commander of the Fourteenth army corps on the west front.

WILSON MANAGERS ARE STILL HOPEFUL

REFUSE TO ADMIT THEIR CANDIDATE HAS BEEN BEATEN IN FIGHT.

PRESIDENT WAS CHEERFUL

While Members of Household Were Disheartened He Kept Up Spirits.

New York—W. R. Willcox, chairman of the Republican National committee, announced at 8 o'clock that from returns received up to that hour Charles E. Hughes was sure of election. Chairman Willcox made this statement after receiving reports he said that indicated both New York state and Illinois had gone for Hughes.

New York—Congressional election returns were insufficient tonight at 11 o'clock to indicate what would be the complexion of congress. At that hour, however, the republicans had gained two senators, one in New York and one in Maine, elected last September, and the indications were that they would gain at least three more, two in Indiana and one in New Jersey.

To gain control of the senate the republicans must win nine seats beside holding their own. Although republican party leaders predicted tonight that the democratic majority of 23 in the present house would be wiped out, the early returns showed a net gain of one for the republicans, through the defeat of McGillicuddy in Maine last September. They gained two in New York, but this was offset by a democratic gain of one in North Carolina and one in Pennsylvania.

New York—Soon after midnight the Republican National committee issued an official statement claiming California, Connecticut, Delaware, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin. That made a total of 284 electoral votes, 18 more than the necessary 266 for an election.

E. S. ROSECRANS

Republican Circuit Clerk was re-elected to the office by the handsome Republican vote polled in Lee county yesterday.

HUGHES LEADS IN OREGON

Portland, Ore.—Indications just before midnight were that Hughes was leading in Oregon by a small majority. Complete returns from 381 of 1639 gave Hughes 4189, Wilson 4133.

INDIANA FOR HUGHES

Indianapolis—Hughes' early lead in Indiana was cut down somewhat as later reports were received and according to returns at 1 o'clock this morning with 1475 of the 3142 precincts in the state heard from the lead was 7994. If the present ratio continues, however, Hughes' plurality will be about 15,000.

NEBRASKA IN DOUBT

Omaha—Democratic leaders claim Nebraska for Wilson by a majority of 15,000. 72 of 1779 precincts gave Wilson 9744 and Hughes 8123. Republican leaders have not conceded the state. The prohibitory act has carried by a substantial majority.

MICHIGAN TO HUGHES

Detroit—When one-third of the voting precincts in Michigan had filed their midnight reports Hughes was sharply increasing his lead over Wilson. Returns from 705 precincts in 66 of 83 counties gave Wilson 85,008 and Hughes 99,974.

When The Prize Beauty Arrived

I wish she'd come," said young Gavis.

"I don't see where she gets her good looks," commented young Tillman, as he watched the retreating form of Mrs. Lampark waddling upstairs.

Ever since the Lamparks had been at The Oaks, the exclusive boarding house, the household had heard of the Lampark daughter, who was away visiting. At Mrs. Lampark's first mention of her daughter no excitement was created at the Oaks.

Mrs. Lampark was a short, square, shapeless woman, whose flat and colorless countenance brought irresistibly to frivolous minds and thought of a pudding bag. Lampark was wispish as to mustache, hair and intellect. Nobody ever noticed whether he was around or not. Somebody in his early youth had left him some money, and his life had been passed in a frantic effort to hang on to it, because he had a dim realization that if he lost it he never could make any more, thereby proving that in the most hopeless of individuals there may lurk a grain of common sense.

But as the days went on the young women at the Oaks began to consider seriously the tragedy of Miss Lampark's coming and the bachelors to grow impatient. They yearned with the tickleness of the masculine for the new charmer to appear.

Mrs. Lampark achieved real popularity, because if the young men could not see her daughter they could at least hear about her from her mother.

"I don't know how I've got along all these weeks without Hermione," Mrs. Lampark would sigh. The bachelors liked that name, Hermione—it was so different from the tiresomely ordinary Kates and Gertrudes and Marys. "She is so much company for me. She's not like most young girls who won't waste time on their mothers! Hermione is just as jolly and fascinating alone with me as she would be entertaining a roomful of people."

"No, she isn't dark, Mr. Garvis. How did you ever get that idea? Hermione is a blonde. It's rarely you see a perfect blonde nowadays, don't you think? Why when she was a little girl people used to stop me on the street just to exclaim over her hair. But she isn't vain, for I always made it a point to rub away any tendency of that sort. It destroys a girl's charm to have her self-conscious and proud of herself!"

"Too bad some other mothers didn't feel the same way," said young Tillman afterward, watching a group of the pretty and fluffy young persons who with their parents abided at the Oaks. "Those girls there haven't an ounce of superfluous sense among them all. Their chief concern is whether their puffs are still in place."

"I don't now what I'm going to do about a room for Hermione," her mother said one day to several of the women and their daughters. "The only vacant room has such a small closet and no box couch and with all her clothes I don't see what she will do. A young girl going out a lot has to have so many dresses, you know!"

After this blow the other girls at the Oaks held a sad conference.

"I expect," said the former belle of the place, "that she has simply heaps of stunning clothes and she is little and a perfect blonde. I think the time has arrived for me to pay that long promised visit to Boston. Nobody will know whether I am here or not after she comes."

"I'm going to see if mamma won't take me to California," said the tall dark Miss Smith with the big brown eyes. "What's the use of staying here? I'd like to see her though before I go!" "Hermione is coming next Tuesday!" Mrs. Lampark announced one evening beaming, as much as her style of countenance permitted. "Now I shall be happy. I only hope she hasn't gone out so much down there that she's lost her complexion and her bright eyes. Oh, these young girls!"

The whole establishment was keyed up to delightful expectancy and everybody barely existed till the important Tuesday. The first public view of the radiant Miss Lampark would be when she made her entrance to dinner. At 7 o'clock, when Mrs. Lampark was observed getting out of the elevator, it would not be an exaggeration to say that mere eating was abandoned in the Oaks dining room.

Following her mother, with her father trotting along in the rear, came Hermione. She was indeed little and blonde—but her littleness was of the nondescript, slab-sided sort; her blondness was that of straight tan hair and pale blue, prominent eyes and papery washed-out complexion. She was hopelessly unbelievably unnoticeable and her fussy gown caused a heavenly peace to surge through the anguishedly expectant feminine observers. There was nothing, absolutely nothing, to fear from any girl who would wear a frock like that.

The remarkable thing was that Mrs. Lampark fronted the room triumphantly, saying by her manner: "Here is my daughter! Now, have I exaggerated? Bow down and worship!"

That attitude struck young Gavis and his first exclamation died on his lips.

"Well," he said later to young Tillman, "Mrs. Lampark talked that way because she was the girls' mother. Mothers are apt to—er—exaggerate. Say, I'm going over and talk to Miss Smith."

Mr. and Mrs. George Downing were Oregon visitors Sunday, and some time was spent at the Sinnissippi farm.

LOWDEN LANSLOIDE SURPRISE TO FOES

OREGON FARMER DEVELOPED GREAT STRENGTH IN ALL PARTS OF STATE

MAJORITY IS OVER 150,000

Ran Exceedingly Close to Dunne in Cook County—Ran Ahead—Downstate.

Col. Frank O. Lowden of Oregon swept the state yesterday, defeating Gov. Dunne for the governorship of the state by a majority of from 150,000 to 175,000. The gentleman from Sinissippi ran close to his rival in Cook county, developing strength there which surprised his opponents and in the downstate districts he ran better than 2 to 1 over Dunne.

Returns are incomplete and slow, but there is every indication that Col. Lowden carried the entire state ticket with him.

"SPUDS" WILL TASTE LIKE CANTALOUPE

Simply a Question of Time When New Secrets Will Be Discovered, Says Chemist

The day is coming soon when potatoes dug from the ground will taste like cantaloupes, grape fruit will be plucked from the trees like cherries, and the Sahara Desert will bloom like a rose garden. Such was the prediction made by Howard Dean, professor of chemistry at Park College, Parkville, Mo., speaking before the Missouri Valley Horticultural Society. Professor Dean said he already had succeeded in reducing the starch of a potato to sugar through chemical treatment. He asserted that by feeding certain plants on formaldehyde they can be made to develop sugar and starch.

He said that investigations now being made by chemists show that plants manufacture compounds that are not normal to them. These investigations, he said, are being continued and chemists are diligently searching the leaves of plants in an attempt to find the agent which converts the carbon dioxide in the air and the moisture into plant products.

When the secret is discovered—and of its early discovery he is confident—he said he would possess an unlimited source of energy. The point he brought out was that the possession of that secret would enable man to convert the sun's energy to his own use in any way he desires. Then it would be possible, he asserted to turn the Sahara Desert with plant life; to grow any plant so that it would taste exactly as its grower wished. He also said, in answer to a question, that it would be possible to raise grapefruit with the bitterness removed. Fruits, he added could be raised so they would taste just as the grower desired.

Recipes
Macaroni Cheese—Break three ounces of macaroni—noodles or spaghetti answers equally well—into small pieces, boil in rapidly boiling salted water; when tender drain off the water and add half a pint of milk; cook slowly till the macaroni has absorbed most of the milk. To half a pint of thick white sauce add two ounces of grated cheese and mix with the macaroni; last of all add two well beaten eggs. Butter plain border mold, sprinkle it with browned bread crumbs and pour in the macaroni mixture, steam gently for about half an hour, turn off and fill the center with stewed tomatoes and mushrooms.

Corn Chowder—One can corn, four large potatoes, two onions, one half pound bacon or ham, one tablespoon butter, three tablespoons flour, one pint milk, six crackers, one egg yolk, one half pint boiling water. Cut potatoes and onions into dice and put in frying pan until nicely browned. Put in kettle and simmer twenty minutes. Add milk, rub butter and flour together and stir into boiling chowder. Add crackers and beaten egg and serve piping hot.

GIVES POINTERS ON HORSE BUYING

SPORTSMAN SAYS FIVE YEAR OLD ANIMAL MAY BE HAD FOR $150 UP

All Round Horse Should Be Fearless and Well Broken

"All games, pastimes and sports worthy of the name are artificial work," said the late well known author and sportsman, Prince Collier, according to the New York Tribune; "what our ancestors did from necessity, we do because we find that vigorous use of our powers, physical, mental and moral makes living more agreeable. Our ancestors shot, fished and rode, walked, cut down trees, paddled canoes, sailed boats, fought wild beasts, etc., because they were obliged to that they might live. We do many of these same things—we call it sport: in reality it is artificial work. The quality and value of all games and sports may be tested and graded as to their respective merit according as they develop in their patrons the qualities that hard work develops. Health, courage, serenity of spirit, good manners, good nerves, tenacity of purpose, physical strength, were the reward of the hard worker; those same qualities ought to be the aim of the good sportsman."

Now it must be acknowledged that good horsemanship is capable of in-breeding some of these qualifications, besides which, riding is one of the best sports that has come down to us through the ages. Not only is it invigorating and health preserving, but the indefinable fascination and sense of exhilaration in being astride of and mastering a lively and powerful beast that, did he but realize his own strength, could go wherever he willed regardless of any rider, is a strong appeal to the real sportsman. To a skilled rider the very act of keeping an active horse under complete control, and at the same time having the knowledge how to exact a willing and friendly submission lends an added pleasure to the game.

Many horse lovers feel themselves deterred from riding on account of the expense. But there need not be an overlarge appropriation, and very good sport may be had with an all-round horse in the country suitable for both driving and riding, where time can be spared for feeding, watering and his general care. A horse about 5 years old, sound, gentle and willing, may be had from $150 up. The important point is where to find him. So for the encouragement of the doubtful it may be confided that such horses are being sold every day by dealers in our large cities. Go, however, to the reliable dealer (most of them, by the way, being fully as reliable as their "more holy than thou" neighbors) and state the full requirements and the price to be paid. And just a mild suggestion here: Never approach a dealer as though you were a Diogenes and he a full-fledged swindler, or try to beat him down on his figure, or take a too-knowing friend for added protection and to help regulate prices! For this in the eyes of a self-respecting dealer will relieve him in large measure of an otherwise sense of responsibility, and quite justly so.

Before starting in to search however, have a distinct idea as to the sort of beast wanted, and here the standard set by the United States army for remounts will serve as an excellent guide. "The beast should be a gelding, in good condition, about four years old, weight from 950 to 1,000 pounds; height 15 to 15.3 hands; head small and well set on neck; ears small, thin, erect; forehead broad and full; eyes large, prominent and mild; vision perfect; muzzle small and fine; mouth deep; lips thin and firmly compressed, nostrils large and fine, and branches of under jaw wide apart where they join the neck; neck light, moderately long, and tapering toward the head, with crest firm and longer than underside; withers elevated, well developed and well muscled; shoulders long, oblique and well muscled; chest full, very deep, moderately broad, and plump in front; forelegs vertical and properly placed with elbow large, long, prominent and clear of chest; knees neatly outlined, wide in front and well directed; back short, straight and muscular; barrel large, increasing in size towards the flanks, with ribs well arched and separated; hind quarters wide, thick, long, full, muscular and rounded externally; tail fine intact and firm; hocks lean, large, wide from front to rear; feet medium sized, circular in shape, sound, with horn dark, smooth, fine in texture; sole moderately concave and frog well developed, sound, firm, large, elastic and healthy."

In addition to the measuring up in a general way to this standard, the all-round horse should be gentle, well broken to harness, willing, fearless and a good hearty feeder.

WILSON AND AIDS REFUSE TO GIVE UP

INSIST THE PRESIDENT WILL BE RE-ELECTED IN FINAL RESULTS.

PRESIDENT IS VERY HOPEFUL

Displayed Keen Interest In Probable Complexion of the Next Congress.

Asbury Park, N. J.—At 10 o'clock tonight the executive offices issued the following statement: "We believe President Wilson has been re-elected. There is nothing to date to alter this view. We are not so precipitate as our opponents in announcing the result."

Long Branch—In the face of returns up to 10 o'clock indicating the election of Hughes, President Wilson and his official family here late tonight insisted that news from the western states would be awaited before any concessions were made.

The president, surrounded by the members of his immediate family, read the returns in his study at Shadow Lawn. He heard only the more important bulletins by telephone from Secretary Tamm, who with White House attaches received detailed reports by telegraph at the office in Asbury Park. As continued discouraging news came to the executive offices, disappointment was generally expressed, but the president himself remained cheerful. He filled the time between receiving returns by talking with Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson and other relatives. Mr. Wilson displayed keen interest in the returns indicating the probable complexion of the next house and senate.

PENNSYLVANIA IS FOR HUGHES

Gave Republican Candidate Majority of 200,000.

Philadelphia—Pennsylvania, which cast its electoral vote for Roosevelt four years ago today swung back into the republican presidential column, giving Hughes a plurality, as indicated by returns up to midnight of about 200,000. Virtually all counties that were normally in the republican column prior to 1912 returned republican pluralities.

CONNECTICUT IS IN G. O. P. RANK

New Haven, Conn.—Connecticut's seven electoral votes will be cast for Charles E. Hughes. At 1 o'clock with only nine towns missing, the standing was, Hughes 102,266, Wilson 93,147. The republicans have re-elected Gov. Holcomb, U. S. Senator Geo. H. McLean and at least three of the five congressmen.

ENJOYED FEED.

The Telegraph force of election workers are indebted to the local Elks' lodge for a splendid feed of clam chowder along about the time of night when it came in just right. Some kind hearted Brother Elk brought the banquet over from the social session that was in progress at the club.

INDIANA IN DOUBT.

Indianapolis—At 10:30 the outcome of the election in Indiana was still in doubt, but Hughes and Goodrich, republican candidate for governor, were leading by small margins. The two republican candidates for the United States senate were also leading.

LOWDEN SWEEPS STATE IN GREAT VICTORY

HUGHES SETS PAGE FOR LOWDEN IN ILL.

HEAD OF TICKET AHEAD OF THE STATE CANDIDATES IN THE EARLY RETURNS.

AHEAD OF WILSON IN COOK

Vote In State Was Exceptionally Heavy—Ninety Per Cent of Registration.

Chicago—Returns received up to midnight indicated a Republican victory in Illinois by a plurality estimated at more than 100,000 for Hughes and slightly smaller pluralities for the Republican state ticket, headed by Lowden for Governor.

Hughes Lead In Chicago.

Estimates based on returns up to that hour indicate a plurality for Hughes in the state outside of Chicago for more than 100,000, while Hughes was leading slightly in the complete Chicago returns. The race in Chicago, however, was close.

Lowden was opposed by Gov. Edward F. Dunne, Dem., who was up for re-election. The vote was heavy throughout the state. In Chicago it was estimated at more than 90 per cent of the registration. Women who voted for the first time in Illinois on the president issue, maintained about the same ratio of preference for Hughes or Wilson as the men. In 1912 Wilson carried Illinois with a vote of 405,488 to 386,478 for Roosevelt and 253,593 for Taft. In that year Roosevelt carried Chicago by a plurality of approximately 35,000 over Wilson.

HOYNE WINNER IN CHICAGO

Stratton & Colet's Indian Strangely Affected By Election.

The election returns had a peculiar effect on Stratton & Colet's Indian, one of the old and honored residents of Dixon, proving so exhilarating that he awoke from his slumbers at 11:30 last evening and walked, leaning on the arms of republican friends, to the office of A. H. Hanneken, secretary of the Lee County Democratic committee, to be on hand to participate in an early morning conference of the faithful.

HUGHES WINS IN PENN.

Philadelphia—Early returns from Pennsylvania indicate that Hughes has carried the state by about 200,000 plurality. Returns also indicate that the democrats apparently will not increase their representation in congress. P. C. Knox was elected to the senate by a large republican plurality and the entire republican state ticket was also elected by a plurality a little less than for Hughes.

COLORADO TO WILSON.

Denver—Based on returns from 205 out of 1,451 precincts in Colorado, including 60 in the city of Denver, President Wilson has carried Colorado by a safe plurality.

HUGHES SLEPT AS EARLY REPORT CAME

SPENT EVENING AT HOTEL IN NEW YORK AND DINED WITH FAMILY.

RECEIVED CONGRATULATIONS

Wife, Daughters and Friends Gave Him Their Best Wishes Early.

New York—Charles E. Hughes and his family received the election returns here tonight at the uptown hotel which has been the Republican nominee's headquarters since his nomination. When the early returns began to come in Mr. Hughes was asleep. He slept until 6:30 o'clock. Meantime the telegraph instruments in an adjoining room had been clicking for two hours and a sheaf of telegrams were awaiting Mr. Hughes' perusal. The first paper handed him told of an announcement by a New York newspaper that he had carried New York state by 150,000 plurality. Mr. Hughes smiled.

Mrs. Hughes and their three daughters, the Misses Catherine, Ellis Elizabeth and Helen scanned the returns over Mr. Hughes' shoulder. Presently Charles E. Hughes, Jr., and his wife and Col. Carter, Mrs. Hughes' brother, and his wife joined the group. Dinner was ordered, the first in months at which the family had been present. At 9 o'clock Mrs. Hughes congratulated her husband on his election. Mr. Hughes' daughters also congratulated him. A crowd of thousands with brass bands gathered in the hotel where Mr. Hughes was staying and at 11 o'clock sent up a committee to request the nominee to appear before them. Mr. Hughes sent back word that he did not wish to appear until the result was demonstrated beyond doubt. The crowd went away.

HUGHES HAS 277

New York—An early estimate of the Hughes electoral vote without Ohio placed it at 277, eleven more than necessary for a majority in the electoral college. The Hughes majorities reported from Indiana and Illinois were regarded by the republican leaders as an indication of what might be expected from the states further west when the figures began coming in.

NEW JERSEY REPUBLICAN

Trenton, N. J.—Scattering returns received here shortly before midnight indicated that New Jersey had gone republican by a substantial figure. Republican state headquarters claimed the state for Hughes and made the assertion that in addition to Walter Edge for governor and Jos. S. Frelinguysen for U. S. senator, the republicans had elected ten of the 12 congressmen and also had obtained majorities in both houses of the state legislature.

Returns indicated that Hughes had a plurality of about 30,000 in the state.

REPUBLICANS GAIN SEATS IN CONGRESS

14 REPUBLICAN AND 4 DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMEN ASSURED OF SEATS.

SEVEN DISTRICTS IN DOUBT

Chicago—Returns at midnight indicated the election of 14 republican and 4 democratic congressmen in Illinois, a gain of two for the republicans, with seven districts still in doubt. The republican candidates for congressman-at-large also were leaving at that hour. Among the congressmen re-elected, according to returns at midnight, were Wm. B. McKinley, James R. Mann, Ira C. Copely, Geo. E. Foss and Fred A. Britten.

SOUTH DAKOTA FAVORS HUGHES

Adopted State-Wide Prohibition and State G. O. P. State.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—South Dakota today gave its five electoral votes to Charles E. Hughes, adopted state-wide prohibition, elected two and possibly three republican congressmen and a full republican state ticket.

With one-third of the precincts of the state reported late tonight indications were that Hughes has won by not less than 12,000 plurality.

GIVES FACTS ON EELS

Writer Says Eggs won't develop in Fresh Water

The egg of an eel will not develop in fresh water. It took the naturalists a long time to make the discovery. Centuries passed, indeed, before any of the wise men knew that eels produced eggs.

The fish were well known in the days of Aristotle, and prized a food, but that astute scholar taught that they were without sex and produced spontaneously from the earth's entrails. Pliny agreed with him as to their sex, but affirmed that they rubbed themselves against the rocks, thereby scraping particles of slime from their skins which developed into eels.

It was not until 1877 that a naturalist, an Italian, by the way, identified a female eel. He taught that the young were born alive from their mothers. More than 100 years afterward, another man of science succeeded in detecting a male eel, thus overthrowing at last the teaching of Aristotle.

Knowledge of eels advanced so slowly for the simple reason that they were studied only in their summer homes, bodies of fresh water. They do not spawn there. An unerring instinct teaches them that their eggs need the stimulation of brackish water to develop them into activity.

V. R. McCreery is in Aurora on business.

BOTH CANDIDATES GO TO BED EARLY

HUGHES LEFT WORD HE DID NOT WISH TO BE DISTURBED.

New York—Charles E. Hughes sat up with his family to receive election returns until 1:15 a. m. He then went to bed, leaving instructions that he was not to be disturbed.

Long Branch, N. J.—President Wilson went to bed at 12:30 with his campaign managers here and in New York claiming his election. He left word, however, that if really definite returns were received during the night he should be awakened.

G. O. P. IN N. DAKOTA

Fargo, N. D.—Republicans won every important contest in North Dakota today. Headed by a 15,000 plurality for Hughes, returns shortly after midnight showed Porter J. McCumber, republican, was re-elected U. S. senator over John Burnke, democrat, and Lyman J. Frasier, republican, was elected governor.

VERMONT FOR HUGHES.

Burlington, Vt.—Vermont today gave Hughes a plurality of about 20,000 over Wilson. Horace F. Graham, republican, was elected. Gov. Carroll S. Hage was returned to the U. S. senate and two republican members of congress were re-elected.

BOTH CLAIM IDAHO.

Boise, Idaho—Both state chairmen late tonight were claiming this state. Only 12,000 out of a probable 115,000 votes had been counted. These gave Wilson 6468, Hughes 6295.

GOV. E. F. DUNNE

Democratic incumbent of state's highest office who met defeat in his battle with Col. Frank O. Lowden yesterday.

Election Brevities Flashes From The Telegraphs' Special Leased Associated Press Wire

Winnebago county—Returns for governor complete. Dunne 2730 and Lowden 5202.

Wilmington, Del.—The democrats at 2:30 a. m. are claiming Delaware for Wilson. In 115 out of 117 districts in Wilmington the vote was: the state gave Wilson 214,064, and Hughes 11,184, Wilson 10,404.

The counties of Kent and Sussex tre claimed to have gone for Wilson sufficiently strong to overcome the Hughes plurality in Wilmington.

New York—The New York Times conceded the election of Hughes at 7:45 p. m.

Returns from the 10th congressional district indicate the election of Foss, republican, for congress.

Boise, Idaho—600 of 743 in Idaho give Wilson 440, Hughes 547.

Cheyenne—Returns from 12 precincts out of 588 in Wyoming give Hughes 251, Wilson 142.

Salt Lake City—Early returns from Weber, Summit and Utah counties indicate that Wilson has carried the state and that Senator George Sutherland, republican, is probably defeated by W. H. King, democrat. The race between Morris, republican, and Bamberger, democrat, for governor, is very close, with Bamberger slightly in the lead.

Returns for president from 899 out of 3142 precincts in Indiana give Wilson 122,715, Hughes 116,890.

LaSalle—39th district indicates Browne, democrat, Benson, republican and Scanlon, republican, elected.

Baltimore—26 out of 316 precincts in Baltimore city give Wilson 4936, Hughes 3868.

Elkhorn, Neb.—First Nebraska partial returns of Elkhorn give Wilson 130, Hughes 123.

Brownsville, Tex.—First Iowa infantry gives Wilson 160, Hughes 290.

Denver—6 out of 193 precincts in Denver give Hughes 522, Wilson 1188.

Detroit—Returns from 59 Michigan precincts give Hughes 5152, Wilson 4081.

Returns from 78 precincts give 11, 318 for state-wide prohibition and 7237 against it.

Manchester, N. H.—Returns from 76 out of 294 precincts in the state give Hughes 6031, Wilson 4972.

Milwaukee—Returns for president from 269 of 2250 precincts in the state give Wilson 18,062, Hughes 23,802.

Returns for president, 1025 out of 2400 precincts in Cook county: Wilson 92,477, women 61,959, total 160,436; Hughes 103,441, women 63,348, total 166,789.

New York—Returns from 2434 of 3680 districts outside New York City give Hughes 401,757, Wilson 297,280.

St. Louis—Returns from Missouri were insufficient late tonight to indicate definitely whether Hughes or Wilson had carried the state. Returns from 461 of 3458 precincts gave Wilson 52,559 and Hughes 51,527.

Returns from the 14th congressional district indicate the election of Graham, republican, for congress.

Returns from the 15th congressional district indicate the election of King, republican, for congress.

Returns from the 19th congressional district indicate the election of McKinley for congress.

Returns from the 20th congressional district indicate the election of Rainey, democrat, for congress.

St. Paul—When returns from one-tenth of the precincts in Minnesota had been tabulated early today President Wilson was leading Hughes by nearly 5,000 votes, the count for 301 being: Wilson 30,349, Hughes 26,433.

Manchester, N. H.—With only 14 precincts to hear from it appeared early today that Hughes' plurality in New Hampshire had been reduced to 2500 votes.

St. Louis—Late returns from Jackson county included Wilson's lead in Missouri to 12,000. 1800 precincts in the state gave Wilson 214,064, and Hughes 201,353.

Providence, R. I.—The Republicans carried the entire state ticket by a plurality of about 11,000, re-electing Walter Stiness, republican, by about 3,000 and Ambros Kennedy, republican, by about 1,000 to congress, but lost the U. S. senatorship.

Chicago—The vote in 3065 out of 5369 Illinois precincts including 1793 in Chicago gave Wilson 492,505, Hughes 587,135, a lead of 94,630 for Hughes.

St. Louis—Returns at 1:30 o'clock this morning from 1481 of 3459 precincts in the state showed Wilson 170,935, Hughes 163,139.

Indianapolis—1686 precincts out of 3142 in Indiana give Wilson 193,736, Hughes 202,459.

San Francisco—Gov. Hiram Johnston was elected to the senate from California by a comfortable majority. The presidential contest is still in doubt.

Boston—The republicans yesterday elected their electors, returned Fry Cabot Lodge to the U. S. senate.

Returns for president from 1049 precincts out of 2975 in Illinois outside of Cook county give Wilson 111,532, women 74,934, total 186,566; Hughes 156,025, women 97,523, total 253,548.

Kansas City—President Wilson has a lead of 5274 votes at 2 o'clock this morning over Hughes. With 630 out of 2474 precincts reported the president had a total of 102,490 votes against 97,216 for Hughes.

El Paso, Tex.—The Penna troops in the field, the only large guard organization here to vote, gave Hughes 3132 and Wilson 2029. The Massachusetts United of one hospital preference for Wilson, however, 40 to 19. The first Delaware camped at Deming, N. M., also favored Wilson, 127 to 104.

Cheyenne—138 out of 588 precincts in Wyoming give Wilson 5270, Hughes 4682.

Seattle—Returns from 735 out of 2385 precincts in Washington give Hughes 55,857, Wilson 61,781.

HON. JOHN C. M'KENZIE

Congressman from the Thirteenth District was re-elected easily in Tuesday's election.

HUGHES STRENGTH IN N.Y. WAS GREAT

PRESIDENT AHEAD IN CITY BY ONLY 36,000 WITH 97 DISTRICTS MISSING.

WHITMAN IS RE-ELECTED

Governor of Empire State Was Returned To Office By Voters.

New York—With 1,356 districts missing out of 5,807 in New York state, Charles E. Hughes led President Wilson in the presidential contest at 10 o'clock tonight with a plurality of 65,152. Wilson lead Greater New York with only 97 districts missing by 36,984; Hughes led up state by 104,477 with 1,132 districts still to be heard from. Wilson carried Manhattan by approximately 27,000.

The democrats made gains in several industrial cities up state, but the country districts remained overwhelmingly republican. The most notable increase in the democratic vote was in Buffalo, which Hughes carried by only 3,637. Slight democratic gains were also shown in Rochester, Syracuse and Albany, the banner republican cities of the state.

From returns received at 10 o'clock it was apparent that Charles Whitman had been re-elected governor over Samuel Seabury, his democratic opponent.

HUGHES IN OREGON.

Portland, Ore.—Hughes increased his lead in Oregon early today, according to incomplete scattered figures from various parts of the state which gave Hughes 8957, Wilson 8209.

Albuquerque, N. M.—Both democratic and republican leaders early today claimed the election of their candidates.

Phoenix, Ariz.—Based on scattering returns throughout the state, the democratic leaders today predicted Wilson would carry the state by 60,000.

The result of the election in Missouri was in doubt at 3:30 o'clock this morning. Wilson was leading Hughes 13,000.

Kansas City—Returns from 862 out of 2474 precincts in Kansas give Wilson 122,503, Hughes 119,362.

Cincinnati—Wilson has a lead of almost 10,000 votes over Hughes at 1 o'clock this morning. At that time 285 of the 5570 precincts in Ohio had been counted and Wilson had 200,861 votes to Hughes 170,922.

Boise—At 2:30 this morning with 143 out of 743 precincts counted Wilson had 13,613, Hughes 11,193.

FARMER IS KILLED IN FALL FROM AUTO

JAMES PHALEN OF VIOLA TOWNSHIP VICTIM OF ACCIDENT MONDAY.

IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN RACING

When Car Ahead Turned Over He Either Jumped Or Fell Out.

James Phalen, a Viola township farmer, was killed in an automobile accident south of Ashton Monday, when he either jumped or was thrown from his automobile in which it is said he was racing with a car driven by the pastor of the Reynolds church.

Particulars of the accident are meagre, but according to the advice of Lee county officials the victims of the accident and the pastor, whose name could not be ascertained, were racing on the highway between Ashton and Lee Center when the accident occurred.

It is reported that the pastor's car, which was in the lead, turned over in the road, fortunately throwing the man of the cloth clear of the wreckage. When the car overturned it is said that Phalen, who was riding with his wife and child, jumped from the car or was thrown. He suffered injuries from which he died before reaching the Ashton hospital.

CHICAGO ESTIMATE

Chicago, Nov. 8.—A leading Chicago paper estimates the electoral vote as follows:
Hughes 243
Wilson 243
Doubtful—
Michigan 15
Minnesota 12
California 13

DEMOCRATIC PLANS UPSET IN INDIANA

Hughes Carries State and G. O. P. Gets Two Senators.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—With both leading vice presidential candidates Indiana sons, this state was intensely interested in Tuesday's elections. The Democrats have eleven of the thirteen present representatives and both United States senators. Much vigor was shown in the campaigns over these offices. Two senators were elected, Harry S. New, Republican, faced Senator John W. Kern for the long term, and James E. Watson, Republican, fought to take the short term from Senator Thomas Taggart. Eugene V. Debs, twice Socialist candidate for president, was a candidate for congress representative from the Fifth district (Terre Haute) against Ralph Moss, Democrat, and Everett Sanders, Republican. The Republicans claim and returns indicate the election of New and Watson, Republicans, to U. S. senate, to succeed Kern and Taggart, Democrats, and the entire Republican state ticket by about 35,000.

JAMES P. GOODRICH

MANHATTEN'S NIGHT CHEF DIED SUDDENLY

WILLIAM KRUG SUCCEUMBED TO AN ATTACK OF APOPLEXY THIS MORNING.

STRICKEN WHILE AT HIS WORK

Medical Assistance Summoned Immediately—Died at Door of Hospital.

William Krug, night chef at the Manhattan cafe, was stricken with apoplexy while at work at about 5 o'clock this morning and died a few minutes after he had been taken to the hospital.

Mr. Krug, whose home was in Columbus, O., had been an employee at the restaurant several months and during his residence here had made many friends, several of whom were with him this morning when he fell to the floor in a faint.

Died In Short Time.

Immediately after the attack medical aid was summoned and he was hurried to the hospital. He passed away shortly after being taken to the institution, his death occurring within forty minutes after the attack.

The deceased, who formerly was chef for a circus, came to Dixon from Columbus, O., and in all probability the remains will be shipped to relatives in that city.

Coroner Stephan arrived here this morning, impounded a jury and conducted an inquest at the Jones undertaking rooms, where the remains had been taken. The jury held at the deceased came to his death through natural causes.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been made, but it is probable the body will be shipped to Columbus for burial.

CONTEST IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Democratic Chairman Notifies He Will Contest Count.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 8.—New Hampshire, generally regarded as a solidly republican, was regarded in doubt today. With 21 precincts missing, Hughes has a plurality of 1869. The democratic chairman has notified the secretary of state he will call for a recount.

AMERICANS STEAMSHIP ATTACKED

(Associated Press)
London, Nov. 8.—The American-Hawaiian steamship Columbian, 8600 tons, is sending wireless calls for help. She is being shelled by a submarine.

G. O. P. STATE TICKET WINS.

(Associated Press)
Chicago, Nov. 8.—According to all available returns Lowden and the balance of the republican state ticket were elected yesterday. The republicans elected Medill McCormick and Wm. E. Mason, their candidates for Congressmen-at-Large, and also elected 15 other congressmen to the democratic four, with six in doubt. The net gain for the republicans is three. Cannon, McKinley, Mann, Copley, Foss and Britten were among those elected.

REVIVAL MEETINGS

The revival meetings now in progress at the Brethren church draw large crowds each evening. Rev. R. N. Leatherman, of Champaign, Ill., who is conducting them, is a forceful speaker, and drives the truth home in a direct manner. Tonight Mr. Leatherman will have as the topic for his talk, "Devil," for Thursday evening, "Sin," and on Friday night, "Atonement."

Election Brevities

Flashes From The Telegraphs' Special Leased Associated Press Wire

Helena, Mont., Nov. 8.—Returns to day indicated that Wilson has carried Montana by 10,000. Senator Myers, democrat, was re-elected and Congressman Evans was re-elected.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 8.—The indications are that Wilson has carried North Dakota by 4,000.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 8.—With half of Idaho's vote in, Wilson is leading by about 6,000.

St. Paul, Nov. 8.—With the returns of one-sixth of the precincts in Minnesota reported Wilson is leading by 5,600. The republicans are confident the returns from the rural districts will give Hughes the lead. Eight republican, one democratic and one progressive congressmen were elected.

Seattle, Nov. 8.—Wilson has apparently carried Washington by more than 10,000.

Chicago—Republican headquarters here claim North Dakota and Minnesota for Hughes and state that if California goes for Hughes he will win regardless of Ohio.

The drift in California, Oregon and Washington, and other doubtful states, is said to be in Wilson's favor.

The Chicago Journal says: Wilson 258, Hughes 242, California and Minnesota now in doubt.

Spokane—Late edition American paper gives Washington to Wilson.

Los Angeles—The count here still in doubt. So far any opinion is just a guess.

Los Angeles—A partial count of 693 city and county precincts gives Hughes 61,373, Wilson 55,171.

Milwaukee—Wisconsin will give Hughes a plurality of 20,000. Senator LaFollette and Gov. Philipp were re-elected.

Chicago—1294 out of 2973 precincts in Illinois give Dunne 128,564 and Lowden 199,512.

Charleston—832 precincts out of 1713 West Virginia give Hughes a lead of 628.

Trenton—Hughes' plurality in New Jersey is now more than 39,000. San Francisco—3,712 precincts of 5,911 give Hughes a lead of 2539.

West Virginia Doubtful.

Charleston, W. Va.—With less than half the precincts of the state heard from the result is by no means decisive. Hughes is leading by 2582.

Oregon Claims.

Portland, Ore.—Both sides continue to claim Oregon. The republicans claim it by a large majority.

Nevada to Wilson.

Reno—Wilson carried Nevada.

CLAIM NEW SENATE WILL BE DEMOCRATIC

IF LEADERS' CLAIMS ARE CORRECT DEMOCRATS WILL LEAD BY TEN.

MANY STATES ARE DOUBTFUL

Congress Returns Are Equally Uncertain—Democrats Claim Majority.

(Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 8.—Late returns from Ohio, indicating the re-election of Senator Pomerene, democrat, virtually ended the possibility of a republican ascendancy in the senate. Democratic leaders insist that Hitecock of Nebraska and Pittman of Nevada have been re-elected and that Kendrick has probably been elected in Wyoming. If this is so the political status of the new senate will be:

Democrats 52
Republicans 42

Arizona and New Mexico are still in doubt.

G. O. P. Gains Six.

With nearly 100 congressional districts in doubt the republicans have made a net gain of six. Practically complete returns showed the democrats have lost four senators, one each in Maine, New Jersey, New York and Maryland, while they have gained one each in Utah, Rhode Island and Delaware.

New York, Nov. 8.—Congressional returns are uncertain but at 8 o'clock this morning the republicans had not been able to overthrow the democratic majority, although they have reduced it in the house. In the senate the republicans appeared this morning to have gained seven seats.

Rivals' Claims.

Chairman McCormick of the Democratic national committee this morning claimed 304 electoral votes for Wilson, while Chairman Wilcox of the Republican committee claimed the doubtful states and counted 323 for Hughes.

The actual returns, however, considering definite and indicative figures, gave Wilson 232 electoral votes and Hughes 212. On the votes of California, Idaho, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Oregon, Washington, West Virginia, Wyoming the decisive result of the election will turn.

LATE BULLETINS.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—South Dakota's five electoral votes will probably go to Hughes. Prohibition and women's suffrage carried.

Hughes In 'Frisco.

San Francisco—3414 out of 5917 precincts in the state are for Hughes by 10,900.

Wilson Lost County.

Trenton, N. J.—Wilson lost his own county.

Kansas To Wilson.

Kansas City—The Star, which has supported Hughes, conceded Kansas to Wilson by 5,900.

Claim Safety.

New York—Democratic headquarters claim Wilson can lose both California and Minnesota and still be first convention. In 1833 the second convention convened in Philadelphia and Chairman McCormick held a conference today and reports are current that the question of investigating the count in New Hampshire and other doubtful states was under consideration.

Nebraska To Wilson.

Omaha—With one-tenth of the state heard from, Wilson carries Nebraska by 25,000.

WILSON PLEASED

(Associated Press)

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 8.—Wilson expressed pleasure at the shift in current date conventions have been held in his favor, but reserved judgment.

CHANCES FAVOR HUGHES AS RETURNS COME IN

WILSON AND HUGHES GO INTO THE HOTTEST PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST SINCE THE TILDEN-HAYES BATTLE 36 YEARS AGO—ADVANTAGE SWUNG FROM REPUBLICAN NOMINEE TO THE PRESIDENT LAST NIGHT, BUT RETURNS THIS AFTERNOON PUT THE G. O. P. CANDIDATE IN LEAD—HIS CHANCES ARE CONSIDERED EXCELLENT.

CLAIMS CALIFORNIA AND MINNESOTA

(Associated Press)

The selection of the next president of the United States is still unsettled. In the closest presidential contest since the Tilden-Hayes election 36 years ago, Charles Evans Hughes and Woodrow Wilson are at a neck-and-neck finish for the necessary 266 electoral votes.

Early returns Tuesday evening indicated Hughes' election and even Wilson's strongest supporters in the newspaper field conceded his election but later returns showed that the president has strongholds also and when morning dawned the chances favored Wilson.

Hughes Makes Gains.

It was announced early this morning that Wilson was sure of 232 votes in the electoral college and that Mr. Hughes had 212. California, Minnesota, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana and other large states were put in the doubtful column.

Hughes Leads In 'Frisco.

Later word came from San Francisco that in 3414 precincts out of 5917 in the state Hughes was leading by 10,900. A few minutes later the wires flashed the bulletin that the California Republican chairman said Hughes would carry California by from 6,000 to 8,000.

St. Paul dispatches added to the encouragement of the republicans. They said that if Hughes could maintain the lead he was establishing in the country districts he would carry the state.

Thus, after swinging away from him during the early morning hours the advantages of the fight swayed back toward the republican candidate and at 3 o'clock this afternoon the chances favored his election.

HUGHES SLEPT AS EARLY REPORT CAME

SPENT EVENING AT HOTEL IN NEW YORK AND DINED
WITH FAMILY.

RECEIVED CONGRATULATIONS

Wife, Daughters and Friends Gave Him Their Best Wishes
Early.

New York — Charles E. Hughes and his family received the election returns here tonight at the uptown hotel which has been the Republican nominee's headquarters since his nomination. When the early returns began to come in Mr. Hughes was asleep. He slept until 6:30 o'clock. Maentime the telegraph instruments in an adjoining room had been clicking for two hours and a sheaf of telegrams were awaiting Mr. Hughes' perusal. The first paper handed him told of an announcement by a New York newspaper that he had carried New York state by 150,000 plurality. Mr. Hughes smiled.

Mrs. Hughes and their three daughters, the Misses Catherine, Ellis Elizabeth and Helen scanned the returns over Mr. Hughes' shoulder. Presently Charles E. Hughes, Jr., and his wife and Col. Carter, Mrs. Hughes' brother, and his wife joined the group. Dinner was ordered, the first in months at which the family had been present. At 9 o'clock Mrs. Hughes congratulated her husband on his election. Mr. Hughes daughters also congratulated him. A crowd of thousands with brass bands gathered in the hotel where Mr. Hughes was staying and at 11 o'clock sent up a committee to request the nominee to appear before them. Mr. Hughes sent back word that he did not wish to appear until the result was demonstrated beyond doubt. The crowd went away.

WILSON AND AID REFUSE TO GIVE UP

INSIST THE PRESIDENT WILL BE RE-ELECTED IN FINAL COUNT.

PRESIDENT IS VERY HOPEFUL

Displayed Keen Interest in Probable
Complexion of the Next Congress.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3.—At 10 o'clock tonight the executive offices issued the following statement: "We believe President Wilson has been re-elected. There is nothing to date to alter this view. We are not so precipitate as our opponents in announcing the result."

Long Branch—In the face of returns up to 10 o'clock indicating the election of Hughes, President Wilson and his official family here late tonight insisted that news from the western states would be awaited before any concessions were made.

The president, surrounded by the members of his immediate family, read the returns in his study at Shadow Lawn. He heard only the more important bulletins by telephone from Secretary Tumulty, who with White House attaches received detailed reports by telegraph at the office in Asbury Park. As continued discouraging news came to the executive offices, disappointment was generally expressed, but the president himself remained cheerful. He filled the time between receiving returns by talking with Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson and other relatives. Mr. Wilson displayed keen interest in the returns indicating the probable complexion of the next house and senate.

REPUBLICANS GAIN SEATS IN CONGRESS

14 REPUBLICAN AND 4 DEMO-CRATIC CONGRESSMEN AS-SURED OF SEATS.

SEVEN DISTRICTS IN DOUBT

Chicago—Returns at midnight indicated the election of 14 republican and 4 democratic congressmen in Illinois, a gain of two for the republicans, with seven districts still in doubt. The republican candidates for congressman-at-large also were leading at that hour. Among the congressmen re-elected, according to returns at midnight, were Wm. B. McKinley, James R. Mann, Ira C. Copely, Geo. E. Foss and Fred A. Britten.

Beauty and the Beast

The chic, pinkish girl from the city poked at her fluffy skirts and uttered a little scream.

Mr. Kane very reluctantly took his gaze from the girl upon the stump and peered through the thick green foliage across the murmuring brook. "Woodland deities!" he cried. "A wild cow upon my life."

"Oo-oh!" echoed the girl, with an adorable shiver. "A wild what?"

"A wild cow!" repeated young Mr. Kane. "One of the snarling, vicious brutes that infest these forests and devour innocent women and children."

"Oo-oh!" interrupted the girl. "It is crossing the brook!"

"Quick, quick!" ordered the young farmer. Then grasped her carefully, reverently, and striding across the carpety ground lifted her into the snug branches of a young maple. A rich, brassy tinging came from the direction of the purring branch, nearer, nearer. The wild cow poked her red-flecked head through the bushes and regarded them almost mildly. But the girl shivered charmingly.

"Oo-oh! How can you be so dreadfully brave, Mr. Kane? Aren't you going to climb up?"

"No, indeed," answered the young man. "I'm going to stand right here and defend you with my life."

The wild, red-brown Jersey advanced a bit, tossing her sleek head so that the bell changed noisily.

"Oo-oh!" screamed the girl again. "I just won't allow you to stand there and be massacred on my account."

The young farmer grinned. "I'd be massacred every change of the moon to save your little finger," he began; but the girl interrupted with a shrill scream.

"Oo-oh! Save yourself, Mr. Kane—wild cow was sauntering slowly toward him. When she had ambled to a spot two feet in front of him she halted and licked out her pink tongue.

"Moo!" observed the wild cow.

"Moo! Moo!"

Mr. Kane turned to the girl in the tree. "For your sake," he said, airily waving a kiss. Then he advanced to the reflective wild cow, and grasping a short, sharp horn in each hand, he turned her about and started back to the purring brook. From the snug, leafy maple the girl shrieked in pretty soprano staccato. The wild cow made no sound save to thicken the bell in gentle protest. The girl in the tree patted her chestnut curls, settled herself in becoming posture and closed her blue eyes. When the man returned she did not speak nor move.

"She has fainted!" exclaimed young Kane.

Carefully and tenderly he lifted her down and carried her through the thick hung forest. As he passed into a more opened glade she half opened her blue eyes and murmured "My hero."

"My hero!" murmured the young farmer in return.

Then he placed her upon the greenward and brought water from the rippling brook. In the distance the wild cow set up a ferocious jangling with the brassy bell.

The young man stooped and sprinkled the cold water upon the girl's lips. The red lips twitched, quivered, jerked again, then parted for rich, full, clear-toned rippling laughter. Peal after peal issued from the ripe, red lips and her sides shook with laughter—until Mr. Kane stooped and sealed them with kisses.

"Beautiful deceiver!" he murmured. "Blessed wild cow!" murmured the girl.

From across the rippling brook the evening bell announced the second coming of the wild cow. But the man and girl, being engaged in kissing, did not even look up at the monster.

Not Gallantry

Mr. Brown had just thrust his feet beneath his desk and comfortably settled himself for a long afternoon's work when the office door opened and a woman canvasser entered with a satchel slung from her shoulder.

"An agent!" growled Mr. Brown, as she advanced to his side.

"Good afternoon, sir," said she politely. "Have you any objection to a lady blacking your shoes for you?"

"I have!" responded Mr. Brown, emphatically.

"Oh, you mustn't mind a little thing like that," said she reassuringly. "It's just a matter of business. I'm introducing a new kind of shoe polish and I can't sell any unless I demonstrate to you what it is, can I? So just put out your feet, and I'll black your shoes in a moment."

"I cannot permit it, madam," answered Mr. Brown. "On no account will I permit you to do such a thing."

"I know a great many gentlemen do object to letting a lady do such work and a great credit to it is my galatry," said the lady sales agent.

"Oh, I don't mind that," asserted Mr. Brown, interrupting her.

"Why, what is your objection then?" "Line are tan shoes."

Had His Tongue Tied

While he had difficulty in his speech, and a little girl who came to see him was very much interested in it.

"What makes him talk that way?" she asked another girl, who told her he was tongue tied. When she got home she told her mother about it.

"Mother," she said, "that little boy had his tongue tied with a hard knot and could hardly talk at all."

John Lyons is expected to soon from Jacksonville where he went to cast his vote. Mr. Lyons works in the Grand Detour Plow factory.

HEAD OF TICKET AHEAD OF THE
STATE CANDIDATES IN THE EARLY RETURNS.

AHEAD OF WILSON IN COOK

Vote in State Was Exceptionally
Heavy—Ninety Per Cent of Registration.

Chicago—Returns received up to midnight indicated a Republican victory in Illinois by a plurality estimated at more than 100,000.

Hughes and slightly smaller pluralities for the Republican state ticket headed by Lowden for Governor.

Hughes Lead in Chicago.

Estimates based on returns up to that hour indicate a plurality for Hughes in the state outside of Chicago for more than 100,000, while Hughes was leading slightly in the complete Chicago returns. The race in Chicago, however, was close.

Lowden was opposed by Gov. Edward P. Dunne, Dem., who was up for re-election. The vote was heavy throughout the state. In Chicago it was estimated at more than 90 per cent of the registration. Women who voted for the first time in Illinois on the president issue, maintained about the same ratio of preference for Hughes or Wilson as the men.

In 1912 Wilson carried Illinois with a vote of 465,488 to 386,478 for Roosevelt and 253,593 for Taft. In that year Roosevelt carried Chicago by a plurality of approximately 35,000 over Wilson.

Stratton & Core's Indian Strangely
Affected By Election.

The election returns had a peculiar effect on Stratton & Covert's Indian, one of the old and honored residents of Dixon, proving so exhilarating that he awoke from his slumbers at 11:30 last evening and walked, leaning on the arms of republican friends, to the office of A. H. Hanneken, secretary of the Lee County Democratic committee, to be on hand to participate in an early morning conference of the faithful.

LOWDEN LANSLOIDE SURPRISE TO FOES

OREGON FARMER DEVELOPED
GREAT STRENGTH IN ALL
PAIRS OF STATES.

MAJORITY IS OVER 150,000

Ran Exceedingly Close to Dunne in Cook County—Ran Ahead—Downstate.

Col. Frank O. Lowden of Oregon, the state yesterday, defeating Gov. Dunne for the governorship of the state by a majority of from 150,000 to 175,000. The gentleman from Mississippi ran close to his rival in Cook county, developing strength there which surprised his opponents and in the downstate districts he ran better than 2 to 1 over Dunne.

Returns are incomplete and slow, but there is every indication that Col. Lowden carried the entire state ticket with him.

ENJOYED FIELD.

The Telegraph force of election workers are indebted to the local Elks' lodge for a splendid feed of of clam chowder along about the time of night when it came in just right. Some kind hearted Brother Elk brought the banquet over from the social session that was in progress at the club.

Satisfy!—that's a new thing for a cigarette to do

It's nothing for a cigarette to just taste good—lots of cigarettes may do that. But Chesterfields do more—they satisfy! Just like a thick, juicy steak satisfies when you're hungry.

Yet, with all that, Chesterfields are MILD!

No other cigarette can give you this new enjoyment (satisfy, yet mild), for the good reason that no cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend—an entirely new combination of tobaccos and the most important development in cigarette blending in 20 years.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Try this! Hair gets thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful at once

Immediate—Yes. Certain—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

ILLINOIS CLOSE, BUT FOR HUGHES

Lowden, Republican, Is Leading for Governor.

HOYNE COOK COUNTY VICTOR

Women Cast Huge Vote in State, Exceeding 500,000—President and Hughes in Close Race in Chicago, Returns from Down State Are Scattering.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—All parts of the country watched Illinois, for the largest woman vote ever polled by any state was recorded here. The vote of the fair sex has reached half a million. In Chicago alone 305,000 women were registered.

The state elected two congressmen-at-large, in addition to governor and a full state ticket. Cook county, in which Chicago is situated, voted on local propositions. The fight was continued to the opening of the polls.

Illinois Returns Incomplete. The returns in Illinois are so scattered and so incomplete that a basis of the Republican plurality is difficult to estimate. For president Hughes and

NEXT GOVERNOR.

Wilson ran close in Chicago, the Republican lead barely reaching 5,000 in Cook county. In the state outside of Chicago, the race also is close with Hughes leading.

Governor Dume carried Chicago for re-election by 10,000 but lost the state by a plurality approximating 100,000.

Maclay Hoyne, Cook county state's attorney, had the hottest fight on the local ticket, and is re-elected by a plurality that may reach 40,000.

The special subjects on the "small ballot" are probably defeated. McCormick for congressman-at-large leads by over 100,000 while W. E. Mason running with him wins by nearly as large a vote.

Think Stone Beaten. Peoria, Ill., Nov. 8.—Clifford Ireland, Republican, has apparently defeated Congressman Stone, Democrat, by 800 votes for congressman sixteenth district.

Cannon by 5,000. Danville, Ill., Nov. 8.—Joseph G. Cannon will have a plurality for re-election to congress of about 5,000.

OHIO SWINGS INTO DEMOCRATIC COLUMN

President's Lead Bears Out Pre-election Forecasts.

Columbus, Nov. 8.—How the German vote would go was the center of speculation in this state. Ohio has been looked on as one of the critical states of the union.

Atlee Pomerene, Democrat, conducted a strong campaign for re-election against Myron T. Herrick, ex-Governor. The present governor, Frank B. Willis, Republican, has had to fight to hold his office against James M. Cox, Democrat, who was governor in 1913-1915.

President Wilson lost Hamilton county by 18,000, but carried Cleveland. The President carries the state, and the vote on state officers is close. The Democrats claim the re-election of Atlee Pomerene for U. S. Senator.

California Republican. San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Hiram Johnson's election for United States senator is claimed by 75,000. Hughes also carries the state.

Hughes and Dry in South Dakota. So. Falls, Nov. 8.—Early returns indicate Hughes won South Dakota by a small majority. Prohibition carried and women suffrage is doubtful.

Dry Loss in Maryland. Baltimore, Nov. 8.—Late returns from Baltimore indicate the defeat of prohibition in Maryland by 10,000.

FRANK BEARD FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Frank Beard of Polo, whose death occurred Monday, was held today.

New Old Ladies

"I saw you with a couple of delegates from the old ladies' home—the other afternoon," observed the tobaccoist to his cross-eyed customer.

"Old ladies is right," replied the cross-eyed man covering the tobaccoist with his left eye while he selected a cigar with his right. "You never see me with any but live ones."

"Live ones!" "Certainly, live ones. There was a time when old ladies used to sit in a corner and darn saucy, soft, short skirts, but they don't do much of that sort of thing any more."

"You see, nowadays a woman gets married when she gets out of high school, and then the family arrives. Pretty soon the family grows up and gets married. Then there are grandchildren to be taken care of."

"If she has survived all this, grandma wakes up to the fact that she has been hitting the ball all these years and has never had a holiday nor any fun. She has a little money compounding in the bank and she figures it is up to her to get around the country and see a little of life."

"And that is what the old lady of the present day does. She travels, she speculates, she promotes and goes to the races and the ball games."

"Why, when you jump off the street car at the ball park and run ahead of the others to be first in line for your tickets, you find three or four spry old ladies there ahead of you. They all know the best seats, too, and get them."

"Same way at the theater. It used to be that the hotels and the drummers and the cigar stands had the first shot at the reserved seats, but not now! The best seats at the theater are for the old ladies. They are the sports! Waiters in restaurants know the old ladies' favorite dishes and how they want them dished up, or there is trouble."

"Politicians and big bugs used to have the best berths in the Pullmans and drummers who handled the employees a half dollar, but nowadays the old ladies own the stock and control the policies, and get the train conductors fired if they want to."

"If you want to know whether the fishing is good in certain localities or not, or, if the roads are good to any resort, ask some old lady. They know fishing averages, railroad folders, which city has the latest and biggest depot, how much it cost and why. One of the ladies you saw with me was telling me how she lost the best suit of hair she had in the Hotel Shima in Japan, and the other had just been telling me how she lost her favorite switch while hurrying for the steamer at Tierra del Fuego."

A New Complaint.

A German, whose wife was ill at the Seney Hospital, Brooklyn, called the first evening she was there and inquired how she was getting along. He was told she was improving.

Next day he called again, and was told she was still improving. This went on for some time, each day the report being that his wife was improving.

Finally, one night when he called he was told that his wife was dead. Seeing the doctor, he went up to him and said, with a world of sarcasm in his voice:

"Well, doctor, vat did she die of—improvements?"

Josh Juniper—"That feller, Aaron Alfred, has got less p'de than any young farmer I ever seen!"

St. Wank—"How's that?" Josh Juniper—"Why when he goes to town he don't walk his team most all the way an' then whip up an' come whirling over the top of the hill an' down into the village, a shortin' an' a-savin'; but just comes pokin' alone into town like he didn't care a darn whether anybody was lookin' at him or not."

Against Additional Expense.

Young Mrs. Green (to neighbor)—"I'm having much trouble keeping our food. I bought a real nice looking refrigerator, but it doesn't seem to work at all."

Neighbor—"Do you keep ice enough in it?"

Mrs. Green—"Ice? I hope you don't think, after spending all that money on a refrigerator we'd go to the additional expense of buying ice."

MISSOURI IS DEMOCRATIC.

Wilson Carries State—Reed Wins for U. S. Senate.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 8.—The vote in Missouri was the heaviest in the history because of the interest in the statewide prohibition proposition to be decided. The Republicans made a hard fight to elect Judge Henry Lamm for governor. His opponent was Fred D. Gardner. Senator Reed also faced a hard fight for re-election against Dickey, of Kansas City.

President Wilson carries Missouri, but Judge Lamm, Republican, is leading for governor. Wilson for president will probably have 30,000 plurality.

Oklahoma Solidly Democratic.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 8.—Wilson carries the state by 35,000 and all Democratic congressmen will be retained.

BOTH CLAIM IDAHO.

Boise, Idaho—Both state chairmen late tonight were claiming this state. Only 12,000 out of a probable 115,000 votes had been counted. These gave Wilson 6468, Hughes 6295.

WILSON LEADING.

St. Paul—When 183 out of 302 precincts in Minnesota had been heard from shortly after midnight, Wilson was leading Hughes, 22,323 to 18,243.

...last week.

...Mrs. Mary Adams of Storm Lake, Iowa, has returned from a visit with friends in this vicinity.

...Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hoover of Hugham, Montana, were guests at the home of Wm. Hoover of this city, and are now visiting in Mrs. J. J. Leake's home.

...Miss Edith Eller is in Pennsylvania spending her vacation with relatives.

...Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Fisher have returned from a visit at the home of their son, H. D. Fisher of Wheat Ridge, Colorado.

...Miss Ella Maine, who has been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Maine, during the summer, has returned to Los Angeles, California.

...Mrs. Carl Hecker is recovering from severe injuries, which she sustained in an accident, when her horse stumbled, as she was driving home from church, and she was thrown from the buggy near the farm residence of Patrick O'Brien, where medical assistance was called and she was removed to her home.

...Mrs. Hecker's daughter, who remained in the buggy reached home in safety, although having no control of the horse, which ran to the barn before ceasing its wild career.

...Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whitthouse, who were recent residents of Dakota, have moved to Chicago, where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Whitthouse was a former Amboyite, who resided at the home of his uncle, Dr. W. L. Berryman.

...Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Barlow spent Sunday in May.

...Mrs. J. E. Lynch, Miss Frances McGrath, Helen Enright and James Lynch motored to Rochelle Sunday, where Miss McGrath took the train to Chicago.

...Miss Mina Wilcox has taken rooms at the home of Mrs. Margaret Lewis.

...Miss Madge Wolcott is spending a few weeks at the C. Partridge home in Deloit, Wis.

...Fred Kersten of Ashton spent Sunday in this city, visiting friends.

...Mrs. Ellen Burns and daughter, Miss Alice, expect to go to Chicago this week, where they will reside during the winter.

...Mrs. J. H. Enright of El Paso and Miss Frances McGrath of Chicago, spent the week-end at the T. Rankin home. Mrs. Rankin is convalescent from her recent illness.

...Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fenton and family of LaMoille motored to this city, Sunday, and spent the day at the home of Mrs. K. Kehoe.

...Mr. and Mrs. James Loan and with Mrs. Loan's mother, Mrs. Margaret Hayes, who is ill at her home on West Main street.

...The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble, rheumatism, disorders, who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Pay Envelope Number Nine

It was six o'clock on a dull Saturday evening in late November; thick gray clouds filled the sky, and the smoke that poured from the sooty throats of the smelter factory hung close to the earth and made the atmosphere as impenetrable as a fog. From the great yards of the Mt. Clair Iron Works a long serpentine line wound slowly out, a line of tired, blackened men. Usually they poured from the foundry in a great black mass, but on Saturdays it was different. Saturday was pay day, and then the men must march slowly by the paymaster's little window and call out his number, receive the envelope containing his week's pay and march on out the gate. It was by means of this method that the timekeeper could keep tab on the many men under his charge.

Harvey Fleetwood was near the head of the line on this particular day. His young wife was very sick, and he was in a hurry to get home to her; so in spite of the protests of the men he pushed his way to the front until he was the fifth one from the head.

"Number Nine" he called and in a moment received the envelope so numbered, was jostled on, and had soon hurried from the yard, not hearing the call of the paymaster or of the men behind him. Once outside the grounds and apart from the men he savagely tore the envelope open.

"Ten dollars, and here I owe the doctor that much for Molly's medicine. Then the kids need clothes and we have got to eat. What will I do if she does not get well?" he groaned, and took the money from the envelope. For a moment he stood amazed, then gave a long low whistle, for there in his pay envelope was twenty dollars. He looked at the envelope. It was his, Number Nine. It was sealed when he got it, so the paymaster could not know that he had made a mistake. The money was his, and the doctor would be paid.

At first he could not believe his good fortune, but the two ten dollar bills crinkled in his hand. It was true. His first impulse was to rush home and tell Molly, but on a second thought he decided not to. Molly was peculiar; she would say the money was not his, and would not rest until he had taken it back. Besides, the office was closed now, and he could not take it back until Monday morning if he wanted to, which he did not.

Ordinarily Harvey would have decided to go to the paymaster and tell him of the mistake, but with so many bills to be paid and Molly so sick it seemed a godsend to him, and he resolved to keep the ten dollars and say nothing of it to the paymaster or to his wife. The doctor would be paid, and he would have his regular wages to keep them through the week. With this decision he satisfied himself.

Overhead in a shadowy light the men in the molding department had been told not to return until nine o'clock Monday morning, so the foundry was deserted at eight when the president of the company strode into the cashier's office. After greeting his subordinate, he said:

"Harrison threw up his place as foreman of the molding and casting department Saturday. He was getting too old for the work, so we will have to pension him. Been with us a long time, thirty years. That means promotion for some one in the department, and I cannot decide whom to put in."

"Have you no one in mind who is able to fill the position as well as Harrison did?" asked the cashier.

"Oh, there are several who can do the work, but that is not the question. We need some one thoroughly honest, as he will have the handling of all the orders, and a smart man could easily filch money from us by short-ordering and taking the difference between the order and the bill he gives us. I had in mind that young Fleetwood. He is a good worker, and seems to be honest. I have no way of telling if he is honest, for I will not abuse the confidence of my men by setting traps for them, and—Answer the telephone there, Watson."

When the cashier turned and hung up the receiver there was a smile on his face.

"You will not have to set a trap intentionally to test Harvey Fleetwood, and yet there will be one," he said.

"What do you mean?" the president rose from his chair as he asked this question.

"Carlton, the paymaster in the molding department has just wired me that he inadvertently put ten dollars too much in Harvey Fleetwood's pay envelope Saturday night. Fleetwood is number nine, and Jones is nineteen. Jones worked overtime last week and made twenty dollars. Carlton put the same amount in number nine by mistake. He will not be here until Wednesday, and he has asked me to fix it up."

"You are right; that will be the test of Harvey Fleetwood's honesty and of his ability to fill the position left vacant by Harrison, for if he proves his worth in this matter I will give him the place."

"It is now ten minutes of nine," said the cashier. "You can remain here and see what he does. The men all come in by the large gate there and we can see as soon as he enters if he is coming here."

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark spent the past week at Mendota.

Rev. H. H. Appleman has returned from a trip to the east.

The shrieking whistle now broke the silence and rendered further speech impossible. The continued tread of feet was heard, now and then a laugh or a few words as the men passed on their way to work. The two men in the room looked anxiously at the gate until it seemed that all the men were in, then, as they were about to give up, Harvey Fleetwood walked in, and came at once toward the office.

Harvey had spent a miserable Sunday at the bedside of his wife. She had been too sick to notice that the usual cheery smile had left his face, and so the confession that she might have had from him was lost. The doctor had left word that no more medicine would be forthcoming until his bill was paid, and this made Harvey all the more determined to keep the ten dollars given him by mistake the night before. Monday morning came, and he picked up his tools and lunch box to start to work. He went in to kiss his wife goodbye. She put her arms around his neck and whispered:

"Never mind Harvey, I will soon be well. I do not mind how poor we are so long as you are honest." With a sob he hurried from her bedside into the next room, took the ten dollars and replaced it, in the envelope. He would be honest. He would trust to God; surely He would provide. Then he hastened to his work.

When he entered the gate he went straight to the office to tell the cashier of the mistake made in his envelope. He hesitated when he saw the president, but when he had nodded to him to proceed, he said:

"There was a mistake made in my pay envelope last week and I got ten dollars too much; here it is, sir, and he laid it upon the desk.

"Keep it," returned the president. "You deserve it for your honesty; the mistake was ours." The astonished Harvey left the office. When he had gone the president said with a satisfied smile:

"I think Harrison's place is filled."

Harvey hastened home that night with the ten dollars and the astounding news that he was promoted to foreman and his salary doubled. The news acted better than a tonic, and Molly was soon her old self. It was then that he told of the pay envelope, and to hear her praise was ample reward for his honesty, together with the joy at receiving the new position. He was glad that he had not yielded to temptation.

A Sad Accident

A Brockville man who has a home in Scotland to which he returns in the winter, bought an expensive fur cap in this country to give to his gamekeeper. Two years ago last winter he took it over and presented it to the old man, who was delighted with it.

The cap was very serviceable, having earflaps, and would wear about a lifetime. The next winter the American again returned to Scotland and noticed to his surprise that the old man did not wear the fur cap.

"What is the matter with the cap I gave you last winter?" he asked.

"I haven't worn it since," the accident, replied the old gamekeeper.

The man from Brockville pondered. "You didn't write me concerning any accident," he said.

"No," mused the gamekeeper. "A man offered me a glass of whisky and I didn't hear him."

A Real Beauty

Two farmers, attired in corduroys and gaiters, were strolling thru a picture gallery, where they looked, and apparently felt, decidedly out of place. But at last they brought up before a picture which really seemed to please them—a portrait of a lovely girl with a particularly ugly bulldog.

"This is something nice, Dick," said one.

"What is it called?"

Dick referred to the catalog.

"Beauty and the beast," he said.

The other man looked closer at the bulldog.

"Ah," he sighed appreciatively, "he is a beauty too."

Looked Lazy

A traveling man was eating in a stuffy little restaurant one very hot summer day. There were no screens at the windows or the door. The proprietress herself waited on her customers and shooed flies from the table at the same time. Her energetic but vain efforts attracted the attention and aroused the sympathy of the traveling man who said:

"Would it not be better to have your windows and doors screened?"

"Well, yes, I suppose that would help some," replied the woman, after thinking a moment, "but 'twould look mighty lazy like."

Serious

Two neighbors had a long litigation about a small spring which they both claimed. The judge wearied out with the case, at last said:

"What is the use of making so much fuss about a little water?"

"Your honor will see the serious nature of the case," replied one of the lawyers, "when I inform you that the parties are both milkmen."

A Fashionable Color

"Ma wants a package of dye and she wants a fashionable color," said the little girl to the druggist.

"A fashionable color," echoed the pharmacist. "What does she want it for, eggs or clothes?"

"Well," replied the girl, "the doctor says ma has stomach trouble and ought to diet. And ma says if she has to dye it she might as well dye it a fashionable color."

A large number of Dixon people attended the Republican rally at the Amboy Opera house Saturday evening.

WILSON MANAGERS ARE STILL HOPEFUL

REFUSE TO ADMIT THEIR CANDIDATE HAS BEEN BEATEN IN FIGHT.

PRESIDENT WAS CHEERFUL

While Members of Household Were Disheartened He Kept Up Spirits.

New York—W. R. Willcox, chairman of the Republican National committee, announced at 8 o'clock that from returns received up to that hour Charles E. Hughes was sure of election. Chairman Willcox made this statement after receiving reports he said that indicated both New York state and Illinois had gone for Hughes.

New York—Congressional election returns were insufficient tonight at 11 o'clock to indicate what would be the complexion of congress. At that hour, however, the republicans had gained two senators, one in New York and one in Maine, elected last September, and the indications were that they would again at least three more, two in Indiana and one in New Jersey.

To gain control of the senate the republicans must win nine seats besides holding their own. Although republican party leaders predicted tonight that the democratic majority of 23 in the present house would be wiped out, the early returns showed a net gain of one for the republicans, through the defeat of McMillinuddy in Maine last September. They gained two in New York, but this was offset by a democratic gain of one in North Carolina and one in Pennsylvania.

New York—Soon after midnight the Republican National committee issued an official statement claiming California, Connecticut, Delaware, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine Maryland Massachusetts Michigan New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin. That made a total of 284 electoral votes, 18 more than the necessary 266 for an election.

PRINCESS THEATRE

"The Stain in the Blood" is the offering at the Princess tonight. It is not a blood curdling murder story but rather a picture of education interwoven with an intensely interesting dramatic tale showing vicious traits are over-inherited by youth which environment and careful upbringing fail to remedy.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Oil

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 25-cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

BREAKS A COLD IN FEW HOURS-TRY IT!

First dose of Pape's Cold Compound removes all gripe misery.

Don't stay stuffed-up. Quit blowing and snuffling. A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only 25 cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.

MASSACHUSETTS REPUBLICAN.

Race for President is Close—Lodge for Senate.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—Because of his recent attacks on President Wilson, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge's contest for re-election with John F. Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston, was watched here with great attention. Another interesting race was between Governor Samuel W. McCall, seeking another term, and Frederick W. Mansfield, Democrat.

The returns indicate that Hughes carries the state by a plurality of less than 10,000. The delay in getting returns from industrial centers keeps the extent of the Republican victory unknown. Lodge for senator defeats Fitzgerald by a large plurality.

NEBRASKA IS FOR WILSON.

But Hitchcock for Senator is Probably Beaten.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 6.—The race for United States senators and representatives in this state was considerably complicated by the prohibition issue, which was on for the first time in twenty-five years. Drys said they would "blackball" any candidate for congress who is a wet.

Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, was a candidate for re-election against John L. Kennedy, of this city.

The state went for Wilson by a lead approximately of 10,000, but the indications are that Hitchcock for senator is defeated.

The drys claim the state by 30,000.

SPORTSMAN SAYS FIVE YEAR OLD ANIMAL MAY BE HAD FOR $150 UP

All Round Horse Should Be Fearless and Well Broken

"All games, pastimes and sports worthy of the name are artificial work," said the late well known author and sportsman, Prince Collier, according to the New York Tribune; "what our ancestors did from necessity, we do because we find that vigorous use of our powers, physical, mental and moral makes living more agreeable. Our ancestors shot, fished and rode, walked, down trees, paddled canoes, sailed boats, fought wild beasts, etc., because they were obliged to that they might live. We do many of these same things—we call it sport—in reality it is artificial work. The quality and value of all games and sports may be tested and graded as to their respective merit according as they develop in their patrons the qualities that hard work develops. Health, courage, serenity of spirit, good manners, good nerves, tenacity of purpose, physical strength, were the reward of the hard worker; those same qualities ought to be the aim of the good sportsman."

Now it must be acknowledged that good horsemanship is capable of in-breeding some of these qualifications, besides which, riding is one of the best sports that has come down to us through the ages. Not only is it invigorating and health preserving, but the indefinable fascination and sense of exhilaration in being astride of and mastering a lively and powerful beast that, did he but realize his own strength, could go wherever he willed regardless of any rider, make a strong appeal to the real sportsman. To a skilled rider the very act of keeping an active horse under complete control, and at the same time having the knowledge how to exact a willing and friendly submission lends an added pleasure to the game.

Many horse lovers feel themselves deterred from riding on account of the expense. But there need not be an overlarge appropriation, and very good sport may be had with an all-round horse in the country suitable for both driving and riding, where time can be spared for feeding, watering and his general care. A horse about 5 years old, sound, gentle and willing, may be had from $150 up. The important point is where to find him. So for the encouragement of the doubtful it may be confided that such horses are being sold every day by dealers in our large cities. Go, however, to the reliable dealer (most of them, by the way, being fully as reliable as their "more holy" than their neighbors) and state the full requirements and the price to be paid. And just a mild suggestion here: Never approach a dealer as though you were a Diogenes and he a full-blown swindler, or try to beat him down on his figure, or take a too-knowing friend for added protection and to help regulate prices! For this in the eyes of a self-respecting dealer will relieve him in large measure of an otherwise sense of responsibility, and quite justly so.

Before starting in to search however, have a distinct idea as to the sort of beast wanted, and here the standard set by the United States army for recruits will serve as an excellent guide. "The beast should be a gelding, in good condition, about four years old, weight from 950 to 1,000 pounds; height 15 to 15.5 hands; head small and well set on neck; ears small, thin, erect; forehead broad and full; eyes large, prominent and mild, vision perfect, muzzle small and fine; mouth deep; lips thin and firmly compressed, nostrils large and fine, and branches of under jaw wide apart where they join the neck; neck light, moderately long, and tapering toward the head, with crest firm and longer than underside; withers elevated, well developed and well muscled; shoulders long, oblique and well muscled; chest full, very deep, moderately broad, and plump in front; forelegs vertical and properly placed with elbow large, long, prominent and clear of chest; knees neatly outlined, wide in front and well directed; back short, straight and muscular; barrel large, increases in size toward the flanks; with ribs well arched and separated; hind quarters wide, thick, long, full, muscular and rounded externally; tail fine, intact and firm; hocks lean, large, wide from front to rear; feet medium sized, circular in shape, square, with horn dark, smooth, fine in texture; sole moderately concave and frog well developed, sound, firm, large, elastic and healthy."

In addition to the measuring up in a general way to this standard, the all-around horse should be gentle, well broken to harness, willing, fearless and a good hearty feeder.

When The Prize Beauty Arrived

I wish she'd come," said young Gavis.

"I don't see where she gets her good looks," commented young Tillman, as he watched the retreating form of Mrs. Lampark waddling upstairs. Ever since the Lamparks had been at The Oaks, the exclusive boarding house, the household had heard of the Lampark daughter, who was away visiting. At Mrs. Lampark's first mention of her daughter no excitement was created at The Oaks.

Mrs. Lampark was a short, square, shapeless woman, whose flat and colorless countenance brought irresistibly to trivial minds and thought of a pudding bag. Lampark was wispish as to mustache, hair and intellect. Nobody ever noticed whether he was around or not. Somebody in his early youth had left him some money, and his life had been passed in a frantic effort to hang on to it, because he had a dim realization that if he lost it he never could make any more, thereby proving that in the most hopeless of individuals there may lurk a grain of common sense.

But as the days went on the young women at The Oaks began to consider seriously the tragedy of Miss Lampark's coming and the bachelors to grow impatient. They yearned with the fickleness of the masculine for the new charmer to appear.

Mrs. Lampark achieved real popularity, because if the young men could not see her daughter they could at least hear about her from her mother.

"I don't know how I've got along all these weeks without Hermione," Mrs. Lampark would sigh. The bachelors liked that name, Hermione—it was so different from the tiresome ordinary names and Gertrudes and Marys. "She is so much company for me. She's not like most young girls who want waste time on their mothers! Hermione is just as jolly and fascinating alone with me as she would be entertaining a roomful of people."

"No, she isn't dark, Mr. Gavis. How did you ever get that idea? Hermione is a blonde. It's rarely you see a perfect blonde nowadays, don't you think? Why when she was a little girl people used to stop me on the street just to exclaim over her hair. But she isn't vain, for I always made it a point to subdue any tendency of that sort. It destroys a girl's charm to have her self conscious and proud of herself."

"Too bad some other mothers didn't feel the same way," said young Tillman afterward, watching a group of the pretty and fluffy young persons who with their parents abided at The Oaks. "Those girls there haven't an ounce of superfluous sense among them all. Their chief concern is whether their puffs are still in place."

"I don't know what I'm going to do about a room for Hermione," her mother said one day to several of the women and their daughters. "The only vacant room has such a small closet and no box couch and with all her clothes I don't see what she will do. A young girl going out a lot has to have so many dresses, you know?"

After this blow the other girls at The Oaks held a sad conference. "I expect," said the former belle of the place, "that she has simply heaps of stunning clothes and she is little and a perfect blonde. I think the time has arrived for me to pay that long promised visit to Boston. Nobody will know whether I am here or not after she comes."

"I'm going to see if mamma won't take me to California," said the tall dark Miss Smith with the big brown eyes. "What's the use of staying here? I'd like to see her though before I go."

"Hermione is coming next Tuesday!" Mrs. Lampark announced one evening beaming as much as her style of countenance permitted. "Now I shall be happy. I only hope she hasn't gone out so much down there that she's lost her complexion and her bright eyes. Oh, these young girls!"

The whole establishment was keyed up to delightful expectancy and everybody barely existed till the important Tuesday. The first public view of the radiant Miss Lampark would be when she made her entrance to dinner.

At 7 o'clock, when Mrs. Lampark was observed getting out of the elevator, it would not be an exaggeration to say that mere eating was abandoned in the Oaks dining room.

Following her mother, with her father trotting along in the rear, came Hermione. She was indeed little and blonde—but her littleness was of the nondescript, slabsided sort; her blondness was that of straight tan hair and pale blue, prominent eyes and papery washed out complexion. She was hopelessly unbelievably unnoticeable and her fussy gown caused a heavenly peace to surge through the anguished expectant feminine observers. There was nothing, absolutely nothing, to fear from any girl who would wear a frock like that.

Winnebago county—Returns for governor complete. Dunne 2730 and Lowden 5262.

Wilmington, Del.—The democrats at 2:30 a. m. are claiming Delaware for Wilson. In 115 out of 117 districts in Wilmington the vote was: Hughes 11,184, Wilson 10,404.

The counties of Kent and Sussex tre claimed to have gone for Wilson sufficiently strong to overcome the Hughes plurality in Wilmington.

New York—The New York Times conceded the election of Hughes at 7:45 p. m.

Returns from the 10th congressional district indicate the election of Foss, republican, for congress.

Boise, Idaho—690 of 743 in Idaho give Wilson 440, Hughes 547.

Cheyenne—Returns from 12 precincts out of 588 in Wyoming give Hughes 251, Wilson 142.

Salt Lake City—Early returns from Weber, Summit and Utah counties indicate that Wilson has carried the state and that Senator George Sutherland, republican, is probably defeated by W. H. King, democrat.

The race between Morris, republican, and Bamberger, democrat, for governor, is very close, with Bamberger slightly in the lead.

Returns for president from 899 out of 3142 precincts in Indiana give Wilson 122,715, Hughes 116,890.

LaSalle—39th district indicates Browné, democrat, Benson, republican and Scanlon, republican, elected.

Baltimore—26 out of 316 precincts in Baltimore city give Wilson 4036, Hughes 3868.

Elkhorn, Neb.—First Nebraska partial returns of Elkhorn give Wilson 130, Hughes 123.

Brownsville, Tex.—First Iowa infantry gives Wilson 169, Hughes 290.

Denver—6 out of 193 precincts in Denver give Hughes 522, Wilson 1188.

Detroit—Returns from 29 Michigan precincts give Hughes 5152, Wilson 4081.

Returns from 78 precincts give 11,318 for state-wide prohibition and 7237 against it.

Manchester, N. H.—Returns from 76 out of 294 precincts in the state give Hughes 6931, Wilson 4972.

Milwaukee—Returns for president from 269 of 2250 precincts in the state give Wilson 18,062, Hughes 23,802.

Returns for president, 1025 out of 2400 precincts in Cook county: Wilson 92,477, women 61,959, total 160,436; Hughes 103,441, women 63,348, total 166,789.

New York—Returns from 243 of 3680 districts outside New York City give Hughes 401,757, Wilson 297,280.

St. Louis—Returns from Missouri were insufficient late tonight to indicate definitely whether Hughes or Wilson had carried the state. Returns from 461 of 3458 precincts gave Wilson 52,559 and Hughes 41,527.

Returns from the 14th congressional district indicate the election of Graham, republican, for congress.

Returns from the 15th congressional district indicate the election of King, republican, for congress.

Returns from the 19th congressional district indicate the election of McKinley for congress.

Returns from the 20th congressional district indicate the election of Rainey, democrat, for congress.

St. Paul—When returns from one-tenth of the precincts in Minnesota had been tabulated early today President Wilson was leading Hughes by nearly 5,000 votes, the count for 301 being: Wilson 30,349, Hughes 26,433.

Manchester, N. H.—With only 14 precincts to hear from it appeared early today that Hughes' plurality in New Hampshire had been reduced to 2500 votes.

son county included Wilson's lead in Missouri to 12,000. 1899 precincts in the state gave Wilson 214,064, and Hughes 201,353.

Providence, R. I.—The Republicans carried the entire state ticket by a plurality of about 11,000, re-electing Walter Stiness, republican, by about 3,000 and Ambros Kennedy, republican, by about 1,000 to congress, but lost the U. S. senatorship.

Chicago—The vote in 3065 out of 5369 Illinois precincts including 1793 in Chicago gave Wilson 492,505, Hughes 587,135, a lead of 94,630 for Hughes.

St. Louis—Returns at 1:30 o'clock this morning from 1481 of 3459 precincts in the state showed Wilson 170,935, Hughes 163,139.

Indianapolis—1686 precincts out of 3142 in Indiana give Wilson 193,736, Hughes 202,459.

San Francisco—Gov. Hiram Johnson was elected to the senate from California by a comfortable majority. The presidential contest is still in doubt.

Boston—The republicans yesterday elected their electors, returned Fry Cabot Lodge to the U. S. senate.

Returns for president from 1049 precincts out of 2975 in Illinois outside of Cook county give Wilson 111,532, women 74,934, total 186,566; Hughes 156,025, women 97,523, total 253,548.

Kansas City—President Wilson has a lead of 5274 votes at 2 o'clock this morning over Hughes. With 639 out of 2474 precincts reported the president had a total of 102,439 votes against 97,216 for Hughes.

El Paso, Tex.—The Penna troops in the field, the only large guard organization here to vote, gave Hughes 3132 and Wilson 2029. The Massachusetts United of one hospital preference for Wilson, however, 40 to 19. The first Delaware canvassed at Deming, N. M., also favored Wilson, 127 to 104.

Cheyenne—138 out of 588 precincts in Wyoming give Wilson 5270, Hughes 4682.

Seattle—Returns from 735 out of 2385 precincts in Washington give Hughes 55,857, Wilson 61,781.

Albuquerque, N. M.—Both democratic and republican leaders early today claimed the election of their candidates.

Phoenix, Ariz.—Based on scattering returns throughout the state, the democratic leaders today predicted Wilson would carry the state by 60,000.

The result of the election in Missouri was in doubt at 3:30 o'clock this morning. Wilson was leading Hughes 13,000.

Kansas City—Returns from 862 out of 2474 precincts in Kansas give Wilson 122,503, Hughes 119,362.

Cincinnati—Wilson has a lead of almost 10,000 votes over Hughes at 1 o'clock this morning. At that time 285 of the 5579 precincts in Ohio had been counted and Wilson had 200,861 votes to Hughes 130,922.

Boise—At 2:30 this morning with 143 out of 743 precincts counted Wilson had 13,613, Hughes 11,193.

HUGHES WINS IN PENN.

Philadelphia—Early returns from Pennsylvania indicate that Hughes has carried the state by about 200,000 plurality. Returns also indicate that the democrats apparently will not increase their representation in congress. P. C. Knox was elected to the senate by a large republican plurality and the entire republican state ticket was also elected by a plurality a little less than for Hughes.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable.

G.O.P. CANDIDATES SWEPT LEE COUNTY

INCOMPLETE RETURNS GIVE EVERY REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE BIG LEAD.

HUGHES MAJORITY WAS 3694

Lowden's Majority In Twenty-Three Precincts Was 1945.

Lee county returned its vote to the republican column yesterday with a mighty sweep and gave Hughes and Lowden and the entire republican ticket a handsome majority. Because of the exceptionally heavy vote and the large number of women's ballots the returns were still incomplete at 2 o'clock, at which time the figures showed that 27 of the 30 precincts in the county had given Hughes 7445 and Wilson 3481. 4474 men and 2971 women voted for Hughes and 2006 men and 1475 women cast their ballots for the president.

Twenty-three precincts in Lee county gave Lowden, republican candidate for governor, 3645 and Dunne 1700. For Lieutenant Governor Oglesby led his democratic rival, Huttman, 2615 to 1359 in 16 of the 30 precincts. The same number of precinct gave Emmerson 2573 to Stevenson's 1299 for Secretary of State and Russell 2601 to Brady's 1254 for Auditor.

For Other Offices.

For Treasurer—Small, Rep. 2586 Charles, Dem. 1268

For Attorney General—Brundage, rep. 2418 Lucy, dem. 1261

For Congressman-at-Large—McCormick, rep. 2761 Mason, rep. 2696 Williams, dem. 1369 Kostner, dem. 1363

McKenzie's Vote.

Fifteen precincts, half of those in the county, gave Congressman McKenzie 2439 against Dudley's 1180.

Thirteen precincts in the county gave for Board of Equalization:

Men	Women
Kent 2552	1358
Godfrey 1469	1033

Representative Fight.

Carter, the DeKalb county progressive candidate for representative in the General Assembly, failed to develop any strength in this county, his vote being negligible. Brewer, Carpenter and Devine each polled a big vote, the returns from 20 precincts giving them:

Brewer 4567 Carpenter 5126 Devine 5474

Complimentary Votes.

Circuit Clerk Rosecrans and States Attorney Edwards were re-elected with a pleasing complimentary vote, 16 precincts giving Rosecrans 2660 to Helmer's 1098, and Edwards 2635 to Hanneken's 1147.

Whetston Election.

Sixteen precincts gave Whetston 2493 against Loescher's 1150 for co-oner.

Thirteen precincts gave Leake 2932 to Nesbit's 2032 for county surveyor.

BOTH CANDIDATES GO TO BED EARLY

HUGHES LEFT WORD HE DID NOT WISH TO BE DISTURBED.

New York—Charles E. Hughes sat up with his family to receive election returns until 1:15 a. m. He then went to bed, leaving instructions that he was not to be disturbed.

Long Branch, N. J.—President Wilson went to bed at 12:30 with his campaign managers here and in New York claiming his election. He left word, however, that if really definite returns were received during the night he should be awakened.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM MARYLAND

Estimate President's Majority in the State At 6,000.

Baltimore—With more than two-thirds of Baltimore city vote counted and scattered returns from the counties, the democrats at midnight claimed the state for President Wilson by 6,000 plurality. Democrats elected four congressmen and the republicans two, a republican gain of one. Prohibition was defeated in Baltimore by estimated majority of 40,000.

Reports from Every State

All Agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Wonderfully Relieves Woman's Suffering.

From all parts of this country the clearest evidence is constantly coming to the office of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., proving the wonderful power shown by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in controlling ills peculiar to women. Here are letters from Vermont, Arkansas and New Jersey:

It Cured Me!

Roxbury, Vt.—"A year ago last December I was taken with a female trouble and doctored for it but did not get any help until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back troubled me a good deal and these troubles lasted so long that I grew terribly poor and I felt a great deal easier lying down. No one knows what I suffered. I did not dare consult another doctor I was so afraid he would say I had got to have an operation. I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a god-send to me for after suffering about eight months this wonderful medicine cured me."—Mrs. NELLIE E. FRENCH.

Her Best Friend.

Weehawken, N. J.—"I must call you my best friend for what your remedies have done for me. I am 50, and am passing through the Change of Life and for some time I felt bad but since I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel fine and will recommend it to every woman who suffers as I did."—Mrs. KATHIE LEONHARDT, 419 7th St., Weehawken, N. J.

Had Awful Pains in Side.

Branch, Ark.—"Every month I suffered with cramping pains and I had awful pains in my left side. I was very irregular. I had a tired feeling all the time and did not sleep good at night. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in three months I was well."—Mrs. MAE GATTIS, Branch, Ark.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Repair Shops Portable

The enormous use of aeroplanes during the European war has resulted in an extensive use of special motor aeroplane repair shops.

These portable aeroplane factories were first used by the French, and are marvels of ingenuity, for, in addition to carrying propellers and wings for aeroplanes, they are fitted with lathes, drilling machines, forges and, in fact, most of the apparatus necessary to completely rebuild an aeroplane, except, of course, the engine. Fitted with powerful engines, these aeroplane motors can get up tremendous speed despite their weight, and are quickly on the scene of any aeroplane smash.

In the roofs of many of these motors, by the way, are windows or openings through which an observer can watch the flight of the aeroplanes.

The man who thinks he is the whole thing doesn't waste time trying to conceal it from others.

The Flirt

The girl, who was a very pretty girl, pointed an accusing finger at Freddy Blair and laughed.

"Freddy," she cried, "you'd be the most frightened mortal on earth if I should say 'yes'—if I should really promise to marry you."

Freddy looked offended at this. "I don't see why you say that, Emma," he replied. "Surely I've proposed to you enough times to show that I'm in earnest."

"That's just it," the girl rushed on. "That's the very reason you propose. You are mortally certain that I'll refuse you, and yet each time there is the pleasurable excitement of fearing that, after all, this may be the time that I accept you. You are an old fraud," she laughed again.

"Huh!" said Freddy, "you're certainly long on the logic. But how are you going to explain the first time that I proposed? I didn't have all your refusals then to make me think you were going to turn me down."

"Oh, I can explain that all right," replied Emma, airily. "I noticed that you didn't propose until you heard me declare that I wasn't going to marry for a long time, and that I wouldn't accept any man until I was ready to marry."

"Freddy looked at the girl with a sudden gleam in his eyes. 'I believe that the period you named during which you would not get married was a year?' he questioned alertly.

For some reason the girl blushed at this. "Maybe I did say a year," she replied hastily. Then she rushed on. "Don't you know, Freddy," she asked, "that if I wasn't so well acquainted with you, you might have made me believe that you were really in love with me, with your countless proposals. But, luckily, I know that you're a desperate flirt!"

"What!" cried Freddy. "You can't name another girl that I've proposed to as much as I have to you!"

"Perhaps not," assented Emma, "but it's only because you haven't had the chance."

"Is that so?" answered Freddy, somewhat hotly. "Well, I'm going to propose to you just once more." He took out his watch and looked at it. It was just three minutes of 12. "Do you realize," he continued, "that the year during which you said you would not become engaged is now up? So if I didn't really want you—if I was really afraid that you would accept me—I wouldn't propose again. But here goes, for the last time, Emma, will you marry me?"

"No, you silly boy!" the girl replied, sweetly.

Dark despair swept over Freddy. He hadn't really expected that answer. The one he had expected was "yes." Involuntarily he sighed. He snapped back the lid of his watch and prepared to go. The 12 o'clock church bells rang out. Before he had taken over two steps from her, Emma called to him softly.

"Freddy," she cried, "you were just a little premature. My year wasn't up until 12 o'clock, and as you say you won't propose again and as you're in earnest and I'm in—I—Oh, Freddy, Freddy, dear, will you marry me?"

Freddy's tumultuous answer was sufficient.

Irritating Sounds

"I don't see," said Chinnert, "how any one can be so immodest as to play the cornet right in an open window three feet from a thoroughfare where pedestrians are passing up and down. And especially in warm weather when there are so many people sitting on porches and balconies and when everybody's windows are wide open."

"A man might just as well sit on his front porch or in his front yard playing the cornet as in an open window. It would be just as modest and retiring."

"But in regard to sounds you cannot turn away your ears. You simply have to hear. Then, why should a man be allowed to expose his music to the public ear, a thing that certainly should not be paraded and the exposure of which modesty forbids?"

"There is that infernal cornetist, Vubbs. The sounds which he turns loose are vile, but he doesn't care where he sits by the window, puffing and working away to produce those noises."

"He has a sheet of music before him and tries to make people think that the music sheet calls for the crude sounds that he emits. But he doesn't fool anybody. No such wretched sounds were ever indicated by black notes. There is nothing like them in the whole gamut of noises."

"Now, last night I finished my dinner early, so that I would have a chance to talk to that lovely little Mercurine girl. But hardly had I seated myself on the steps and prepared to look at her appropriately when the cornet fiend emitted a note of sickening derision, which turned my expression of dramatic intensity to one of sheep's eyes and dying caldness."

"The cornetist then gave vent to a succession of sounds that took all the romance out of life. The girl began to look silly to me instead of beautiful."

"That man must play his music backward. All the effects music is supposed to have he reverses."

"If music be the food of love, then that stuff of Vubbs' must be the poison of love. It couldn't pass a board of censors and should be forbidden, accordingly."

What They Really Liked

The newly engaged man with the serious expression beamed at the girl in pink.

"Well, that's all right," he said. "We'll go to the theater Friday night, then. Now what do you want to see?"

"Oh it doesn't matter in the least," declared the girl in pink. "Whatever you like, dear."

"Not at all," said the newly engaged young man fervently. "You must decide. I want you to be pleased. It is to be just as you say."

"Now, Harry," said the girl in pink reproachfully "don't you think for a moment that I'd enjoy myself or have a good time if I thought you were bored and miserable? The idea!"

"I couldn't be miserable if I were near you," said the young man, neatly. "It wouldn't matter about the play."

"Yes it would too," said the girl in pink. "I will not let you sacrifice your self. You'd positively suffer if you had to sit through one of those light musical things—'The Green Eye,' for instance. Why, you'd just hate it. Yet you'd pretend you liked it just for my sake, when all the time I'd know down in my heart that what you really wanted to see was something serious and really worth while, like 'The Struggle.' You like things with—with deep thought in them, and—and all that."

"Now, Mabel," protested the newly engaged young man, vastly flattered and endeavoring to conceal it, "you're just saying that because you want to give up to me. I'm not going to take advantage of your sweet disposition. I know you don't like these serious plays. Not that I think your taste runs to tummy-tum music and chorus girls dressed up like Teddy bears or some other fool thing—'The Green Eye' is that sort—but you like so to be amused. Why not go to the 'Last Word'? That's a sort of happy medium. We'll go there."

The girl in pink shook her head gently. "Harry," she said, "it is like your noble nature to insist on giving up to me, but I just won't let you. Why it would be a pleasure to me just to know you were enjoying yourself."

"Well, so it would to me to know you were pleased," insisted the young man. "You know perfectly well that I'd rather see you happy than be happy myself."

"Of course you would dear," said the girl in pink. "But I'd be perfectly happy to see 'The Struggle.' Why, the critics say it is the master work of a profound mind and that there is material for a dozen plays in it dealing with the vital issues of life. I remember that sentence especially. It's just what you would like."

"Well perhaps," said the newly engaged young man, striving to frown critically, "I don't deny that I am inclined to enjoy serious things—and all that, and you know. Still, other things are often tolerable. I refuse to spoil your evening with any such depressing plays as 'The Struggle.' Why, you'd dream of it for a week."

"I'm sorry," said the girl in pink, "that you seem to think I have only a narrow mind to comprehend something like 'The Green Eye.' Of course, I know I'm not brilliant, but—"

"Why lots of the most brilliant people go to 'The Green Eye,'" said the young man, hastily. "They—they do it for recreation you know, and to rest their brains. It's no reflection on a person to say he goes to a musical comedy I'm sure. Only I thought it seemed a shame for you to waste an evening on it when you have mental gifts so far beyond it."

"Now Harry," exclaimed the girl in pink, "that just shows the wonderful similarity of our tastes, for that was the very reason I didn't want you to do it. It just seemed a pity, when you would love to turn over in your mind the problems in 'The Struggle.' No, we'll go to that! I—I won't hear of 'The Green Eye'—I mean—what was the other one? Oh, 'The Last Word.'"

"Wouldn't you really enjoy the 'Last Word'?" asked the young man.

The girl in pink shook her head. He sighed.

"Then I suppose it is 'The Struggle,'" he said with gentle resignation. "You don't act at all happy about it," said the girl in pink. "Tell me honestly, Harry, aren't you just dying to see that play?"

"I am not!" said the newly engaged young man, positively.

"I don't understand," said the girl in pink. "I thought, of course, you'd select 'The Struggle.'"

"Don't you want to see it?" asked the young man.

"No," said the girl in pink, weakly. They eyed each other for an anxious minute and then the girl in pink threw caution to the winds.

"Let's be silly and go to 'The Green Eye,'" she said, breathlessly.

"Thank goodness!" cried the relieved young man. "That was a narrow escape for both of us."

Why He Was Happy

Peter's father was a shoemaker, when he was a young man and now he is a minister, but never forgets to tell how happy he was as a shoemaker. One day at the table his father was talking about the bishop of his church.

"He is one of the happiest men I ever met," he said.

"Was he once a shoemaker, papa?" Peter asked, as he had come to associate the idea of happiness with his father's trade.

COLORADO TO WILSON.

Denver—Based on returns from 205 out of 1,451 precincts in Colorado, including 60 in the city of Denver, President Wilson has carried Colorado by a safe plurality.

TOO DANGEROUS TO OVERLOOK

DIXON PEOPLE WILL DO WELL TO HEED THE WARNING

To have good health, the digestion, heart, lungs and kidneys must work perfectly. When there is any thing wrong with the digestion, heart or lungs, a very noticeable pain gives prompt warning. Kidney trouble is more easily overlooked, however, and too often gains a long start. But kidney trouble does give early signs, and backache, headache, dizzy spells, rheumatic pains, too frequent, scanty or painful urination should not be neglected. When these warnings appear, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the reliable, success, strongly recommended kidney remedy. Assist the medicine by taking things easier, reducing the diet and the use of liquors. A severe attack of kidney disease may be avoided. Doan's Kidney Pills have won the grateful praise of Dixon people. Read this Dixon resident's endorsement.

Mrs. J. L. Fine, 1006 Peoria Ave., Dixon, says: "I have suffered for years from kidney trouble. My back ached and pained so severely that I had to stay in bed. I had headaches and dizzy spells and specks appeared before my eyes. My wrists and ankles also swelled. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Leake Bros. Co.'s Drug store and they helped me. They have never failed to give satisfactory results."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Fine had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WILSON LOSES HOME STATE.

Plurality Against President in New Jersey Over 10,000.
Trenton, N. J., Nov. 8.—Tremendous interest centered in the election in New Jersey, the president's home state. Besides the personal feeling toward the President there was a hot fight on Senator James Martine, the Republican nominee being J. T. Frelinghausen, a member of an old New Jersey family. Martine, originally chosen senator through the influence of the President, was opposed in the primaries by the President's supporters, who voted for John W. Westcott. The plurality for Hughes in New Jersey is more than 10,000.

KANSAS VOTE IS CLOSE.

With About One-fifth of State Reported Hughes Leads.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 8.—This is the first year Kansas women had the full right of suffrage, carrying with it the privilege of voting for president. The women's votes were an interesting unknown quantity.
With about one-fifth of the state reported Hughes leads Wilson by about 1,000 votes.

The Red Desire

The Tracy's goat was well known all over the ward for a philosopher and an optimist. Trouble went not with his long, white beard, and laughter followed in the wake of his red express.

Before his coming there had been strife and unhappiness in the house of Tracy. The baby had been peaked and 'retful; the twins had fought too much even for twins; Mrs. Tracy had brooded too long on the hollowed memory of her famous ancestors, and Tracy himself lost his rotundity of face and expansiveness of smile in the constant struggle with butcher and baker and candlestick maker.

But with the coming of the goat bright fortune smiled. Daniel Alexander Tracy, the baby, rode the animal's back into the sunshine of health and rosiest. The twins had ceased their wailing to devise quaint harnessing schemes for a new pet. Mrs. Tracy forgot the blessed dead and made a beautiful blue ribbon collar for the goat, which he afterward chewed off; and Tracy laughed the rotundity back into his face, and with it the energy and resourcefulness into his system. So they named the goat the Knave of Hearts, and everybody waxed fat and prospered.

The Knave of Hearts had very peculiar notions as to diet and forage. For instance he had always displayed a strange love for things of blood red hue. He had been known to nibble for hours at a crimson painted lamppost, and his favorite brand of canned goods wrappers was the kind that shows the huge scarlet tomatoes—the twins were quite sure that the Knave also ate the can. The O'Briens next door had to guard Mr. O'Brien's vivid shirts on the clothesline regularly every Monday, and on Decoration Day the Knave made a tidbit of half the flags on the block.

Things were in this happy state when Mrs. Tracy came into possession of the Hyderabad Ruby. It was a heritage from the blessed ancestors, and the presence of the splendid, red gem seemed to bring her back to the unsatisfactory frame of mind that had prevailed before the coming of the Knave of Hearts. She would sit all day and fondle the bauble, neglecting Daniel Alexander, the baby; ignoring the noisy twins; slighting the goat, and vexing Mr. Tracy.

Things became worse and worse until finally Mr. Tracy arose in wrathful rebellion. "Gimme that red devil-lass!" he commanded. "It's throwin' it into the ash cart I'll be after doing this minute!"

"No—no—no!" blazed Mrs. Tracy. She arose and held the radiant red gem between her fingers, tightly clenched behind her back.

"Gimme the hoodoo-jool!" ordered Mr. Tracy.

The baby cried heartrendingly; the twins tore each other's curling locks. The goat, walking in from a light repast on O'Brien's crimson sweater, loomed at the antagonists.

"Gimme the evil sparkle!" cried Mr. Tracy; and the Knave of Hearts walked around and nipped the dangling red bandana from his pocket.

"Never in the world!" retorted that Mrs. Tracy; and the Knave, with an eye to smaller delicacies, strolled around and licked at her hands.

"Heavens," gasped Mrs. Tracy. "The ruby has disappeared!"

"Then praise be!" exclaimed Mr. Tracy; and he began to smile expansively. The baby caught the contagion and crowed shrilly. The twins ceased to battle and brought out the new string harness. The Knave of Hearts faced Mrs. Tracy and wiggled his patch beard very teasingly.

"He has swallowed the Hyderabad Ruby," said Mrs. Tracy with a sigh of relief. "I don't believe I'm sorry."

"It's the blessedest thing the Knave ever did!" declared Mr. Tracy.

Afterwards they treated the Knave of Hearts to a delectable mess of the baby's faded red hair ribbons.

The Rival Mothers

Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Lynch were friends and neighbors—rivals only when it came to expatiating on the merits of their respective sons. Mrs. Sullivan's boy was one of the cheaper clowns of a circus.

Mrs. Lynch's hopeful was an itinerant printer. Both ladies carefully concealed these facts.

"O! jist had a letter form me bhoys, Mrs. Sullivan," said Mrs. Lynch one morning. "He's gettin' to be a great man, so he is. He wrote me that he was edditer av a paper away out beyant Milwaukee somewhere. Oi fergit th' name av th' place—but Jimmy is a wonder; some day, like as not, he'll be Presidint."

"Ayah!" responded Mrs. Sullivan. "Sure, it's only this mornin' Oi got a letter from me own bhoys. He's away off in Rome, Ga."

"What would he be doin' in Rome?" interrogated Mrs. Lynch, with some acidity in her tone.

"What would he be doin' in Rome, is it?" responded Mrs. Sullivan, proudly. "It's me that's the happy woman, Mrs. Lynch. Oi suppose he's down there playin' cassino wid th' Pope ivery avnin'."

Of Course

"I'll never play poker with a palmist again."

"Why not?"

"Why, he could read my hands."

"DID COLUMBUS DISCOVER AMERICA?"

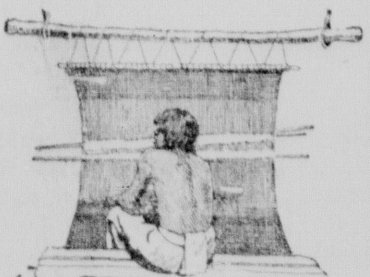

Large City Uncovered in New Mexico This Year. Built 1500 Years Ago

Lecturer at Family Theatre Will Prove That Wonderful Civilization Existed in the United States 1500 Years Ago

On top of Point Lookout in Southern Colorado are over four hundred cities and houses of wonderful masonry work which were no doubt erected by white people a thousand years before Columbus was born. Our government spends thousands of dollars annually to preserve these relics of a past civilization, yet, on account of the hardships incurred in visiting the region, less than 2,000 Americans have ever visited the "Mest Verde National Park."

J. Frank Pickering, who appears at the Family Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday will exhibit grand colored photographic views of those cities, as well as fine motion pictures of other recently discovered "Cliff Dwellers' cities, of the Navajo Indians weaving their wonderful rugs, making baskets, etc. His travelogues are copyrighted, and, considering their exclusive character, are worth many times the admission prices which the Family charges, and which will not be raised.

In addition to this intensely interesting travelogue, two special vaudeville acts will appear along with the usual fine program of movies.
